STRANGE AND TRUE.

AMUSING INCIDENTS WITH LAUGHING GAS!

More than five and a half years ago we originated and introduced the use of nitrous oxide or laughing gas, as an anæsthetic for teeth extraction in place of those disagreeable and dangerous agents, chloroform and ether. Like every new remedy the use of the gas met strong opposition at first; unfavorable, though unfounded, reports were circulated against it. But a year's successful experience lived down all this opposition, so that at the present time EVERY PHYSICIAN in the City, so far as we are aware, recommends the gas, for teeth extraction, before all other anæsthetics.

After we had used the gas about nine months we commenced to ask our patients to sign their names to the following certificate, after their teeth had been extracted:

"This is to certify that the Colton Dental Association of the City of New-York have, after administering to us the nitrous oxide gas, extracted for us, without pain, the number of teeth set opposite to our respective names. The gas was pleasant and the operation satisfactory.—New-York, Feb. 4, 1864."

This scroll now (March 13, 1869,) contains the names of

MORE THAN 34,000 PATIENTS!

AND NOT A SINGLE ACCIDENT HAVE WE HAD WITH THE GAS.

By constant and long continued experience in extracting, our operators have acquired great skill and expertness, so that we often take out from FIFTEEN TO TWENTY TEETH and stumps with one dose of gas, leaving the gums almost as whole as if the teeth had dropped out. In pleasant weather we have a stream of patients from morning to night. "Practice makes perfect." We have patients who often come 300 miles to get their teeth extracted, preferring to come to "HEADQUARTERS." One patient wrote on the scroll, after his name, "I did not come eight hundred miles on purpose to have eight teeth extracted, but I would come that distance if I had any more to be drawn."

To be successful with the gas, two things are absolutely necessary—the gas must be pure, and be properly administered.

AMUSING.

A little deaf and dumb boy came to have a tooth drawn. We could explain nothing to him, except by making motions. We administered the gas and took out his tooth. He saw no instruments, and was not aware that any had been put into his mouth. The next day one of his friends called and told us what he said about it. "I went down to Dr. COLTON'S and breathed into a tube, and my tooth fell right out!"

We sometimes have patients burst into a hearty fit of laughter on waking, experiencing all the delightful sensations of the gas, though this is not often, because when going to sleep they are thinking of the instruments and pain, and fearing we may not give them gas enough.

TESTIMONY OF THOSE WHO HAVE TRIED IT.

A clergyman, after having eleven teeth extracted, wrote on our scroll, after his name: "When I entered these rooms and saw on the door: 'Teeth extracted absolutely without pain,' I thought it a very bold statement. I can now certify that it is strictly true."

Another patient wrote: "I came, I doubted, but took the gas; had out five bad teeth and had not the least knowledge of the time, manner or pain of the extraction. Have tried ether and chloroform without avail. This is the Key Stone in the Arch of Dentistry."

Another patient wrote: "After having a tooth extracted with gas at ——, which was a failure, inasmuch as having felt the pain while extracting, and at the same time breaking the tooth, so that I was compelled to go to Dr. COLTON, and am happy to state had the root extracted without the slightest pain whatever."

An old lady came from Pennsylvania to have 21 teeth and stumps extracted.

She was nervously anxious about the pain. We took them all out with one dose of gas, and when all was over, she said: "Why, I have been dreading this thing for years, and now I find it is just nothing at all!"

ONE SOURCE OF ILL HEALTH.

One of the most prolific sources of ill health and neuralgia is decayed teeth. How can a person expect good health when they have no good teeth to masticate their food? How can a person expect good health while they are constantly drawing into their lungs the foul breath caused by decaying teeth? How can persons with decaying teeth and foul breath render themselves agreeable to associates and friends?

"THE ROUND TABLE."

This able and independent journal of criticism, in an article headed "The Philosophy of Laughter," published Feb. 6, 1869, holds the following language:

"If it be true that the more moments of merriment we have the longer and happier will be our lives—that pain shortens and embitters life we already know—the process of turning moments of agony into moments of delight should have a double effect, and do what the companies fail to do by insuring our lives at compound interest. It must be from this point of view that Dr. Colton is the genuine Modern Democritus—the real laughing philosopher—who is to do for us by tickling what Lady Gay Spanker meant to do for nature by kissing; and whose Nitrous Oxide or Protoxide of Nitrogen is the true fountain which is destined to rejuvenate and keep alive mankind."

"Laughing-gas, as we understand it, is not a Lethe. People do not become oblivious to pleasure when they take it; they only forget pain. A prejudice once existed that it was sometimes dangerous, and so perhaps it might have been if badly administered, or in very exceptional cases. People have been known to die of joy, so that we need not deny the possibility of perishing through beatific inhalation. Yet none have died of more than thirty-two thousand, who are said, in about five years, to have taken the laughing-gas as administered by the COLTON DENTAL ASSOCIATION; and certainly there is no such favorable record of ether or chloroform. It would really seem that this agent had been mercifully sent to relieve our nerve-taxed and depressed community, to enable them not to bear suffering alone, but to secrete joy, and so in a manner to make up for the extraordinary waste of vital energy which the exigencies of modern civilization appear to demand. At no former period in history—so far as we can judge by human records, has any agent like this or the magnetic telegraph been known to the race. Like the latter wonderful invention, the Nitrous Oxide appears to have awaited its proper epoch, and, like it, to have uses and effects altogether unprecedented and unexpected. The one carries messages of instruction and intelligence to the furthermost ends of the earth; the other bears glad tidings of immunity from pain through every vein and along every nerve of the exhausted and suffering body."

DR. J. MARION SIMS.

This distinguished physician and surgeon, in a communication in The British Medical Journal, April 11, 1868, says: "Dr. COLTON has given this gas more than twenty-five thousand times without an accident."

DR. J. M. CARNOCHAN.

This distinguished surgeon, in a communication to The Medical and Surgical Reporter, says: "To G. Q. COLTON is due the credit of reviving the use of this imperishable agent in the practice of dentistry, after a lull of twenty-two years."

PROF. B. OGDEN DOREMUS.

This distinguished chemist writes: "Dr. COLTON has administered the gas many thousand times in dental operations, and more recently for surgical purposes."

CAN ANY ONE DOUBT,

after the above testimony, that we can draw teeth without pain, and that the gas is a safe anæsthetic!

We have given it to scores of patients suffering from heart disease, lung complaints and all sorts of ailments that "flesh is heir to," and with the same uniform success.

From the Sun.

"At the meeting of the Polytechnic branch of the American Institute it was reported that Dr. Colton had discovered a method of curing neuralgia by means of nitrous oxide gas."—It is a fact. G. Q. C.

General Grant's Message—Business Failures—Execution of a Rebel General.

HAVANA, Friday, March 12.

The United States steamer Contoocook, flagship of Admiral HOFF, leaves this port to-morrow for Key West, but will return in a few days.

The United States squadron in the West Indies is insignificant in point of numbers, as compared with the English and French fleets. The American residents here characterize it as ridiculous, and talk of it as an insult to the mercantile interests of the country, while they deride the alleged parsimony or ignorance of the American Government in keeping so small a fleet in Cuban waters during the present condition of affairs on the island.

The Gaceta of to-day publishes an official notification that the families of persons to be transported to Fernando Po, next Monday, may furnish them with means to supply their necessities during their imprisonment.

Advices from Sagua state that the fighting between the troops and insurgents is lively in that jurisdiction.

All the political prisoners now confined in the the fortress, are to be sent to Fernando Po on the 15th inst.

Critical Condition of Juarez's Government—The Treasury Depleted.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Friday, March 12.

Mexican advices via Acapulco have been received. The situation of JUAREZ is described as critical. His available forces are limited; there is no money in the Treasury, and outrages continue and the perpetrators of them go unpunished. The receipts of the Custom-house at Acapulco have been remitted to the interior for the benefit of the General Government for the first time since General ARC was made Governor. General ALVAREZ is quiet, and evinces no inclination to visit the Capital and answer for the large sums which he received for years from the Acapulco Custom-house.

Proposed Change in Contracts for Carrying American Mails.

LONDON, Friday, March 12—Evening.

In the House of Commons this evening, Hon. ROBERT LOWE, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, stated that if the mail contract with the Inman Steamship Company were sanctioned, the steamers of that line would sail from Queenstown every Friday for New-York, instead of on Thursday, as heretofore.

Mr. SEELY moved for a Committee on Mail Contracts to the United States.

The Marquis of Hartington, Postmaster-General, said the contract was completed by the late Government, and to break it would be a breach of faith. He added that the present service was satisfactory.

Mr. LOWE deprecated and Mr. HUNT supported the contract.

The House divided, and the motion was adopted by the following vote:

Assassination of an Editor in Georgia.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Friday, March 12.

CHARLES WALLACE, editor of the Warrenton (Ga.) Clipper, was shot and instantly killed this morning. Mr. WALLACE had applied for admission into the Masonic Lodge of Warrington, and was black-balled by Dr. G. W. DARDEN, who had promised not to oppose his application. WALLACE then attacked DARDEN through the columns of his paper, denouncing him as a liar and a villain. As WALLACE was passing DARDEN'S office, the latter shot him from his window with a rifle, the ball passing through WALLACE'S head and causing instant death. The affair causes intense excitement in Warrenton. WALLACE was a Democrat and DARDEN a Republican.

Execution of a Negro Murderer.

THOMASTON, Me., Friday, March 12.

The negro HARRIS, convicted of the murder of two old ladies at West Auburn in 1867, was hanged to-day at noon. He died easily. Only a score of persons witnessed the execution. Just as he was to be launched into eternity, HARRIS said that LUTHER J. VERRILL, the white man indicted and convicted with him, but afterward granted a new trial, suggested the robbery which resulted in the murder, and was his accomplice in the terrible crime. HARRIS left a written confession in which he repeats substantially the same story that he made in Court. He says that he never intended murder but committed it in the excitement of the moment. He met his fate calmly and expressed deep penitence for his crime.

BOSTON, Mass., Friday, March 12.

A Coroner's jury in Cambridge has investigated the circumstances attending the death of JAMES PARKS, an insane man, which rumor attributed to the violence of three Cambridge policemen. The jury find the following verdict:

That JAMES PARKS died at the Taunton State Lunatic Asylum on Wednesday, March 3, 1869; that his death was caused by a fracture of the breast-bone and of fourteen ribs—nine on the right side and two on the left; two of the ribs on the right side being broken in two places; and by the laceration of the right lung, consequent upon said fracture; that these fractures were produced subsequently to his admission to the Insane Asylum on Tuesday, March 2, and probably occurred about 5 o'clock on the morning of Wednesday, during a severe and protracted struggle between him and three attendants at the Asylum, namely: JOSEPH A. YOUNG, H. O. LAMSON and A. P. CRAM, PARKS, in a paroxysm of maniacal excitement, having made a furious and dangerous attack upon one of the attendants. The jury further say that on the morning of Feb. 26, 1867, the aforementioned PARKS received several severe wounds on the head, while resisting three members of the Cambridge Police force, who were attempting to arrest him for a breach of the peace, he being at the time in a state of maniacal excitement, while they supposed he was intoxicated, but that, in the opinion of the jury, the wounds thus received were not the cause of his death.

Rejection of the Massachusetts Liquor Law.

BOSTON, Friday, March 12.

In the House of Representatives, this afternoon, the liquor question was again under consideration, and the bill slightly modifying the present License law was rejected by a strong vote.

A proposition to allow hotel keepers and grocers to sell without keeping open bars was also defeated, as well as a motion to reënact the Prohibitory law and repeal the present license system. The further consideration of the subject was postponed until next Tuesday, on motion of the leader of the Prohibitory Party in the House.

An Unprofitable Fishing Season on the Banks.

BOSTON, Friday, March 12.

A large fleet of fishing vessels arrived at Gloucester, yesterday, from Georges Banks, nearly all of them having suffered the loss of cables and anchors by weather of almost unexampled severity. It is said the losses will consume the profits of the fishery for the present year. SAMUEL SWAINSON, of Gloucester, was knocked overboard from the schooner Sabine and drowned, and FINLAY MCILLAN and JOHN MCQUARNE, natives of Cape Breton, were lost in a fog, having left their vessels to set trawls.

Secretary Boutwell's Views.

Hon. GEORGE S. BOUTWELL, at the District Convention which renominated him for Congress, said:

"The Republican Party were substantially unanimous in favor of paying the bonds in coin; and if they could not pay the bonds now, they were determined to make the greenbacks as good as coin; and when that result was accomplished the question whether the bonds should be paid in coin or specie would lose its importance. The first duty, therefore, was to make the greenbacks as good as coin. As far as he had any voice in the direction of public affairs, he intended to set in that direction. As to the payment of the bonds, he would not consent to equivocation, shuffling or shaving of any sort. He should consider it the greatest of national calamities not to fulfill the contract in its exact spirit."

Transportation of Political Prisoners—Dulce's Commissioners—The United States Consulate—Future Operations—Miscellaneous War News.

From Our Own Correspondent.

HAVANA, Saturday, March 6, 1869.

"What's in a name?" A great deal, and particularly in the name of Fernando Po, so full of suffering and death to the unfortunate Cuban prisoners, many of whom are destined to make it not only their point of destination, but their last resting place. For more than a week past rumors were in circulation that the political prisoners would be sent to Fernando Po like bandits, but only on Wednesday were these reports confirmed, when an advertisement appeared in the Gaceta calling for proposals to convey 315 political prisoners to Fernando Po. Who are these prisoners and what is their offence? The answer is not easily given, for many of the captives have never been tried, and know not even of what they are accused. They have simply been denounced as suspected of harboring revolutionary ideas. With very few exceptions, it is true, these prisoners have long been known as sympathizers with the revolution, and some of them have taken an active part in it; very few, however, have yet been tried. General DULCE only gave his consent to the measure in consequence of the intense pressure brought to bear on him by the Spaniards and the volunteers. DULCE'S friends say that this is the only measure which would enable him to save the lives of these people from the fury of the exasperated volunteers, who at any moment might repeat the demands made on Sunday week, and be less liable to listen to the voice or advice of the superior authorities. Up to the present nothing definite has been decided upon, but it is generally believed that the expedition will set sail during the present month. The guard to accompany these prisoners is to be composed it is said of volunteers taken from the volunteer battalions of this city; and I was gravely informed by a member of the same force that this guard would execute justice on a few before reaching Fernando Po. This and similar reports are in circulation, but if the expedition once leaves I doubt whether there will be any other danger but that of the sea to beset the prisoners.

DULCE'S COMMISSIONERS.

After the arrival of the Morro Castle from Nassau, small knots of the so-called principal men of the Spanish party could be seen in the neighborhood of the palace engaged in deep conversation, and apparently much excited. That something extraordinary had occurred was certain, and at last the secret leaked out. It seems a proclamation, signed JOSE DE ARMAS CESPEDES, DULCE'S Commissioner to the insurgents and the former editor of the Occidente, El Pais, Siglo and Aurora newspapers, dated from Nassau, had been received. If ever document was intended to cause excitement, this one assuredly was. Mr. ARMAS made some very grave charges against DULCE, accusing him of duplicity, while accusations against the Spanish Government and the Spaniards were as plentiful as berries in Summer. This document, coming from an alleged intimate friend of DULCE'S, as a matter of course made matters look very bad for that gentleman, and already whispers were heard that now nothing would save him, and that the volunteers would undoubtedly attack the palace and kill DULCE, as soon as they knew what he had been doing. Yesterday morning, however, and even before the contents of the other document had become generally known, a card, signed by Mr. RAMON RODRIGUEZ CORREA, the brother Commissioner of DULCE, appeared in the Diario de la Marina, in which this gentleman expressed doubts that the first proclamation was ever written by DE ARMAS, and stated that ARMAS could never have written such a tissue of infamous falsehoods. If ARMAS did, he pronounces the document a collection of base lies, and the action of ARMAS contemptible in the extreme. He adds that the statement in regard to acts attributed to him (CORREA) and the Third Commissioner, TAMAYO, were totally untrue in every particular. From the social position of these gentlemen, the documents have caused a great deal of talk, and the real friends of ARMAS hope that the one attributed to him was not written by him. DE ARMAS is at Nassau, where his wife and brother proceed to join him to-day.

THE UNITED STATES CONSULATE.

Mr. DE LA REINTREE, who for a year past has been acting as Vice-Consul-General, has been relieved at his own request, his position in that capacity having become extremely unpleasant. Mr. HENRY C. HALL, the United States Consul at Matamoras, has taken temporary charge, under orders from Washington, and the principal merchants of Havana have already forwarded a petition that the appointment be made permanent, Mr. HALL enjoying an excellent reputation and being universally liked and respected. Mr. HALL would also be very acceptable to the Government, the Vor de Cuba speaking very highly of him while denouncing the course of Mr. DE LAKEINTREE, who, however, has done nothing to merit the severe rebuke of the journal.

FUTURE OPERATIONS.

From a well-informed source I have derived the following statements in regard to the future plan of opertions against the insurgents, and if the Spaniards have only the necessary number of troops to carry it out, the prospects of its execution are good. The Spanish army will be divided into four distinct columns, the first starting from Cienfuegos and marching by way of Hanabanilla River toward Manicaragua; the second leaving the Las Cruces railroad junction and moving toward Manicaragua by way of Petrerillo; the third departing from Pierra Morena and proceeding via St. Domingo Colony to Villa Clara, and the fourth quitting Sagua and advancing via Cienfuentes and Calabarar, to San Juan de los Remedios. Independent columns are to march from Trinidad, Guarnacabuya, St. Espiritus and Remedios. The plan is a good one, and its object is to stretch a line across the entire island, and by marching continually to the south and southwest to drive the insurgents before it, preventing them from making any inroads to the east or northeast of Sierra Morena, and, if possible, hemming them in between two or more of the columns, and obliging them to give battle or else to disperse and surrender in small detachments.

WAR NEWS—SANTIAGO.

Advices from Santiago to the 27th ult. state that the insurrectionists of the Eastern Department had assembled in quite large numbers at Mayari and its neighborhood. According to public rumor they consisted mostly of farm laborers who had been seduced by the promises or forced by the insurgents to join them, and who were already discontented and extremely desirous to return to their occupations. On the 26th a column of troops left Santiago to march against them. Merchants belonging to Santiago, and having recently arrived here, state that the damage caused to the plantations in the vicinity has been much exaggerated. Notwithstanding that quite a number of estates had been burned or destroyed by the insurgents, still the present crop of that jurisdiction would fall but a third short of that of the previous year. In Guantanama, on the contrary, the prospects were for a larger crop.

SANCTI SPIRITUS.

Letters from this place to the 28th state that, although tranquillity prevailed, small bands of rebels were wandering in the fields and adjacent country, but never could be found by the columns of the Battalion of Order, who were in pursuit of them. However, on the morning of the 26th, it is said that thirty-five men of the sixth company of this battalion surprised an encampment of two hundred of the insurgents, and killed and wounded many, besides securing nineteen prisoners, which, with a large bundle of machetes and a large flag, were taken to Sancti Spiritus the same afternoon.

TRINIDAD AND CIENFUEGOS.

The news from these places is of little importance. The Correo, of Trinidad, of the 28th, publishes an official document to the effect that the columns in operation there had met the enemy on the Mabinjina River, but without coming to any action; that, continuing their march, they came in sight of Manicaragua, and judging by a party of rebels on their flank that these were in force, proper dispositions were made for an encounter. The insurgents, however, fled at once, and the town of Manicaragua was occupied without a shot being fired. On their return march, being informed that the leader, MARIANO JIMENEZ, and his band were concealed in the Trapiche plantation, a detour was made, and the ground reconnoitred, but nothing save a machete belonging to JIMENEZ, one or two other machetes and revolvers were found.

SAGUA.

The insurgents in this district have lately been very troublesome. By taking up the rails they succeeded in throwing off the track a train near Encrucigada, and thus took a number of prisoners. The rebels entrenched in the San Miguel estate had been attacked by a column from Villa Clara and dislodged. The insurgents, before flight, destroyed their cane fields and buildings. Wherever they now make purchases they give orders upon the Treasury of the Liberating Army of Cuba. QUASIMODO.

FORTY-FIRST CONGRESS.

FIRST SESSION.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Friday, March 12.

After the reading of the journal the Speaker announced the first business in order to be the consideration of the resolution offered by Mr. BUTLER, of Massachusetts, last Tuesday, for the appointment of a Joint Select Committee on Indian Affairs, consisting of three Senators and six members, to which shall be referred all matters relating to treaties with Indian tribes, payment of annuities, &c., with power to consider all questions arising under such treaties.

Mr. BUTLER made an explanation of the resolution, in the course of which he stated there were 172 different acts to be consulted by any one desiring to find out all the legislation bearing on Indian affairs, besides a large number of treaties that had been made, modified and altered, going back to 1784.

Mr. ALLISON opposed the resolution as proposing a plan at variance with the principle of legislation, which required all subjects to be considered in the two Houses and in their respective committees separately.

Messrs. SCOFIELD and JUDD advocated the adoption off the resolution as the best means of securing proper legislation on Indian affairs.

Mr. BUTLER replied to the objection made by Mr. ALLISON, and appealed to his course in the last Congress to show that he was sufficiently tenacious of the rights and privileges of the House and jealous of any encroachments on the part of the Senate. So long, however, as the Indians were treated as independent nations and as the House had no jurisdiction on one theory of the law except to vote for appropriations to carry out such treaties, so long would the Executive, with the aid of the Senate, continue to make treaties with the Indians. Therefore, there should be a joint committee on the subject, so that it could be seen how far the Senate was willing to put its treaty-making power under the operation of law. He admitted that the treaties recently made on the Plains ought not to be carried out. The whole system should be changed.

Mr. JULIAN advocated the resolution, and in the course of his remarks characterized the conduct of the Senate in regard to Indian affairs as a corrupt, iniquitous system of legislation.

Mr. INGERSOLL called the attention of the Speaker to this language as being rather unparliamentary.

The Speaker ruled that the language was inadmissible.

Mr. JULIAN said he would withdraw it in that shape, and would put it in this shape: That such legislation seemed to him to be corrupt and iniquitous. Whenever the House had demanded of the Senate decent legislation, the Senate had refused utterly to listen to the proposition.

After further discussion by Messrs. BUTLER and FARNSWORTH the resolution was agreed to—yeas 93, nays 47.

INTERNAL REVENUE TAX.

Mr. KNOTT introduced a bill refunding the internal revenue tax assessed on a bequest made for the use of the Presbyterian Church at Bardstown, Ky. Referred to the Committee of Ways and Means.

DATE OF ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. BINGHAM introduced a concurrent resolution for a final adjournment of this session on the fourth Monday of March.

Mr. SCOFIELD suggested the fixing of some other day than Monday, remarking that last year, when that day was fixed, the consequence was that the Sabbath had to be desecrated.

Mr. BINGHAM accordingly modified his last resolution to read, "the last Friday in March," (two weeks from to-day.)

Mr. SCHENCK suggested it was better not to pass that resolution at once, but keep the matter a few days longer in the control of the House.

Mr. INGERSOLL moved to lay the concurrent resolution on the table. Negatived.

The concurrent resolution was then adopted by ayes 118 to nays 14.

THE INDEPENDENCE OF CUBA.

Mr. BANKS introduced a joint resolution authorizing the President to recognize the independence of Cuba whenever in his opinion a republican form of government shall have been in fact established. Referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

ANNEXATION OF SAN DOMINGO.

Also, a joint resolution authorizing the President to open negotiations with the Government and people of San Domingo for the annexation of that Republic to the United States. Referred to the same Committee.

NATURALIZATION FRAUDS.

Mr. WARD offered a preamble and resolution instructing the Judiciary Committee to report a bill on the subject of the Naturalization laws, so as to prevent frauds in naturalization and to secure the surrender of fraudulent naturalization papers already issued.

Mr. HOLMAN moved to lay the resolution on the table. Negatived, yeas 46, nays 86.

The resolution was then adopted.

FELONIES AND MISDEMEANORS.

Mr. CHURCHILL introduced a bill to define felonies and misdemeanors, and to regulate peremptory challenges; being the bill reported by him last session from the Judiciary Committee, and which was passed by the House but was not acted upon by the Senate.

Mr. KERR moved to lay the bill on the table, and called for the yeas and nays, which were ordered.

Mr. CHURCHILL thereupon withdrew the bill.

THE PUBLIC CREDIT BILL.

Mr. SCHENCK introduced a bill to strengthen the public credit, and relating to contracts for the payments of coin, being his bill of last session of that title as it had passed the two houses on the report of the Committee of Conference.

Mr. ALLISON moved to amend by striking out the second section of the bill, which legalizes gold contracts.

Mr. BURR moved to lay the bill on the table. Negatived—yeas, 53; nays, 86.

The question was then taken on Mr. ALLISON'S amendment, striking out the second section; and the amendment was agreed to—yeas 86, nays 57; so the second section was struck out. The bill was then passed. The following are its provisions:

Be it enacted, &c., That in order to remove any doubt as to the purpose of the Government to discharge all just obligations to the public creditor, and to settle conflicting questions and interpretations of the laws by virtue of which such obligations have been contracted, it is hereby provided and declared that the faith of the United States is solemnly pledged to the payment in coin or its equivalent of all the interest-bearing obligations of the United States, except in case where the law authorizing the issue of any such obligations has expressly provided that the same may be paid in lawful money or other currency than gold or silver; but none of said interest-bearing obligations not already due shall be redeemed or paid before maturity, unless at such time United States notes shall be convertible into coin at the option of the holder, or unless at such time bonds of the United States bearing a lower rate of interest than the bonds to be redeemed can be sold at par in coin; and the United States shall also solemnly pledge its faith to make a provision at the earliest practicable period for the redemption of United States notes in coin.

The title of the bill was amended so as to make it read "An act to strengthen the public credit of the United States."

Mr. BUTLER suggested that he did not think the bill did strengthen the public credit.

The vote on the passage of the bill was yeas 97, nays 47, as follows:

COMMITTEE ON ELECTIONS.

The Speaker announced the Committee on Elections as follows: Messrs. Paine, of Missouri; Churchill, of New-York; Heaton, of North Carolina; Ceasna, of Pennsylvania; Butler, of Tennessee; Stevenson, of Ohio; Burdett, of Missouri; Burr, of Illinois, and Randall, of Pennsylvania.

The Speaker stated that he would announce all the Standing Committees on Monday next.

The Speaker presented the resignation, as Representative, of Mr. BOUTWELL, of Massachusetts, now Secretary of the Treasury.

The House then, at 2:45, adjourned until Monday next.

ALBANY.

Bills Reported Favorably—A Compromise Excise Bill—Passage of the Tax Commissioners' Bill by the Senate—The Senate Investigating Committee and Governor Fenton.

From Our Own Correspondent.

ALBANY, Friday, March 12, 1869.

The Committee on Cities to-day made favorable reports on several important bills relating to New-York and Brooklyn. Among them is the bill to increase the Metropolitan Police force to 2,500 men—adding to the present force 300 for New-York and 132 for Brooklyn. The bill also provides that patrolmen, detailed as clerks, shall receive the same pay as clerks in the position to which they are detailed. The bill allowing the Police Commissioners to appoint a temporary President in place of ACTON was also reported favorably, and afterward ordered to a third reading in Committee of the Whole. The bill establishing a City Market for Brooklyn, on the ground known as City Park, in the Eleventh Ward, was favorably reported. The Committee reported adversely to the bill declaring Tompkins-square a public park, and also to the bill directing the Central Park Commissioners to set apart a portion of the Park for a military parade ground.

A COMPROMISE EXCISE BILL.

The differences between the temperance people, the liquor dealers and the Excise Commissioners have at length resulted in a compromise bill, which was introduced to-day, and will doubtless pass both Houses. The bill, as agreed upon, fixes the license fee for the sale of spirituous liquors at $150; ale and beer $75, with power on the part of the Commissioners to reduce these figures to $100 for liquor and $50 for beer anywhere in the Metropolitan District outside of New-York and Brooklyn. Hotel licenses are graduated from $150 to $500. Restaurants are divided into two classes, the first class paying from $250 to $500 for licenses, and the second class from $150 to $250. All places are allowed to open at 4 in the morning, and remain open till 1 o'clock the next morning, with the exception of Saturday nights, when they must close at 12. The Sunday clause and the power of arrest without warrant remains unchanged. Notices served at a liquor dealer's place of business are sufficient, and need not be served personally.

The Commissioners were strongly in favor of graduating license fees according to the amount of business done, but it was opposed by a large portion of liquor dealers, and was found to be in some respects impracticable; so the compromise bill was agreed upon as the most satisfactory to all parties of any that was likely to pass the Legislature.

to-day passed to a third reading the bill allowing the Comptroller to appoint the Tax Commissioners of New-York City. It is likely to meet a strong opposition in the Assembly. The discussion on the bill to repeal the canal contract system was continued, and the bill was made the special order for Monday evening, to which time the Senate adjourned, and every succeeding evening until it is disposed of.

THE BRIBERY INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE AND GOVERNOR FENTON.

The Senate has ordered the printing of 2,000 copies of the testimony taken by the Special Committee on the bribery and corruption of the last Legislature, whose report was published in to-day's TIMES. The testimony covers 399 pages of foolscap, and comprises some interesting facts not contained in the Committees report. Not the least of these is the evidence given with regard to Governor FENTON'S connection with the Erie legislation last Winter. Mr. HENRY THOMPSON, one of the Erie directors, was asked the question whether any money was paid by the Company to secure Governor FENTON'S signature to the bill legalizing the acts of the Company. He declined to answer on the ground that the question was not within the scope of the inquiry authorized by the resolution under which the Committee were acting—that inquiry being confined to charges of bribing the Legislature and not the Governor. The objection being found technically sound, the question was not pressed, but another witness, Hon. THOMAS MURPHY, of New-York, testified that THOMPSON told him that he saw two checks, of $10,000 each, paid to HAMILTON HARRIS, the Governor's legal adviser, under an agreement that the Governor's signature to the bill should be obtained that day, and that it was so obtained three hours afterward. Mr. MURPHY further testified that during the Presidential campaign he, as Chairman of a Republican Committee, applied to JAY GOULD, the President of the Erie Railroad Company, for a subscription to the campaign fund of the party, (having heard that he had subscribed liberally to the Democratic fund,) and that Mr. GOULD gave as an excuse for not subscribing that he had already paid $20,000 for Governor FENTON.

On the other hand, Mr. HARRIS and JAY GOULD contradicted this evidence, and both denied all knowledge of any money having been paid or received for the Governor's signature to the bill.

The Special Committee of seven on the investigation of the alleged railway corruptions, Mr. BEMUS, of Chatauqua, Chairman, held an important meeting after the adjournment to-day, all the members being present. Several leading New-Yorkers are to be at once subpœnaed before the Committee, which will meet again on Monday.

THE TURF.

The Spring Racing Campaign of 1869—Closing of the Stakes at Jerome Park and Saratoga.

The racing season of 1869 in the North will soon be inaugurated, for the note of preparation has been sounded, and the owners and trainers of thoroughbred stock are actively engaged in getting ready for the approaching campaign. The entries for the principal stakes at the Spring meeting at Jerome Park, and the Summer meeting at Saratoga, have just closed with the Secretary, Mr. CHARLES WHEATLEY, and through his courtesy we are enabled to lay them before the public. The rapidly-increasing popularity of the exciting contests of the turf, the "sport of kings," is strikingly evidenced by the largely-augmented number of horses entered for the stakes just closed, and which comprise the best racing thoroughbreds now on the American turf, and belonging to nearly every State in the Union. Racing is now in the hands of gentlemen of high social position, great wealth and lofty intelligence, and, consequently, its elevation in popular estimation as a noble and dignified recreation is easily accounted for from the most of the debasing influences and associations which, until recently, have disgraced the trotting turf, we believe the day is not far distant when racing will become the national sport of America, as it now is of England. The purity of blood and pedigree which racing necessarily produces and perpetuates, exerts a corresponding influence on the improvement of the breed of horses generally, so that the benefits derived do not cease with the temporary enjoyment of the sport, but are thus indirectly extended in very direction. The turf has recently received numerous accessions of gentlemen of wealth and leisure, and during the coming campaign many new stables of racing stock will take part in the equine contests. Below we publish the entries for the various stakes, just closed, for the Jerome Park Spring Meeting.

The Jockey Club Handicap, a race of two miles for horses of all ages; $100 entrance, play or pay, with $20 if declared, and $1,000 added by the Club, has twenty-six nominations, or three less than last year. The entries are L. W. JEROME'S St. Paul; R. W. WALDRON'S Uncle Vic Colt and Bonnie Brae; Colonel MCDANIELS' Red Dick, Exile and Julius; Dr. WELDON'S Aldebaran; HUNTER and TRAVERS' Nemesis; M. H. SANFORD'S Northumberland, La Polka and Lady One; F. MORRIS' Ruthless; BOWIE HALL'S Australia and ch. c. by Doneraile, dam Undine; JOHN O'DONNELL'S R. B. Connolly and General Duke; R. W. CAMERON'S imported pair, Glenneris and Inverness; M. A. LITTELL'S Onyx; THOS. BUFORD, Eminence; Dr. KERWIN'S Kitten; THOS. NICHOLS' Abdel Kader; L. B. HOLLAND'S Sweet Home; J. J. O'FALLON'S Planiagenet; J. W. PENNOCK'S James A. Connolly and Nellie McDonald. The weights imposed by the handicapper in this race will be announced in two or three days, and declarations of acceptance made on or before the 1st of April.

The Fordham Stakes, a handicap sweepstakes of $50 each, play or pay, for horses of all ages, with $500 added by the Club, closed with thirty-three entries, against thirty-two last year. The distance is a mile and a quarter, and the second horse will receive twenty-five per cent of the stakes, and the third save his stake. The horses entered are Metairie, St. Paul, Uncle Vic colt, dam Dolly Carter, Bonnie Brae, Red Dick, Exile, Morrisseau, Albuera, Ripley, Jubal, Nemesis, Dickens, Attraction, Northumberland, La Polka, Lady One, Salute, Ruthless, Rooster, Wiley, Legatee, R. B. Connolly, General Duke, Interruptus, Hira, Kitten, Abdel Kader, Oysterman, Jr., Corsican, Sweet Home, Bayswater, Locust Post and Kitty Free.

The Westchester Cup, one of the most interesting races of the meeting, has this year nineteen nominations, against twenty-three last year. The distance is two miles and a quarter, for horses of all ages, $50 entrance, play or pay, and the value of the cup is $1,500. Last year this imporant race was won by Local, and by Loadstone the year previous. Although the entries are four less than last year, the high class of the horses more than compensates for the deficiency. They are: De Courcy, the St. Leger winner of 1867; Local, last year's winner; Narragansett, the flying two-year old of last year who made the fastest three-quarter-mile time on record; Dickens, Lancaster, the Saratoga Cup winner; Ruthless, the flyer who, in her two and three-year old form was so invincible; Monday, the Derby winner of 1867; Australia, General Duke, Pleasureville, Abdel Kader, Sweet Home, Nemesis, Vauxhall, The Banshee, Sundown, Bayonet, James A. Connolly, and Nellie McDonald, who last year was known as the Colossus filly. This is truly a brilliant array of racing cracks, and that the limit is reduced down to a dozen, or even less, as it undoubtedly will be on the day of the race, will be productive of deep interest and excitement.

The Hopeful stakes for two-year olds, $50 entrance, play or pay, with $500 added by the Jockey Club, has twenty-four entries, exactly the same as last year. Col. MCDANIELS enters two, a b. c. by Lexington, dam Alabama, and a br. c. by Donaruile, dam Canary Bird; R. W. WALDRON, (Mr. J. ECKERSONS,) enters two, Polly Lyons by Censor, dam Adelgasia, and a ch. c. by Loyan dam National Maid; W. CONSTABLE enters br. c. by Trovatore, dam Cyclone, the dam of Redwing; HUNTER and TRAVERS enter b. f. by imp. Hartington, dam Columbia; A. BELMONT enters ch. c. Telegram by Censor, dam imp. Maud, and ch. f. Nellie James by Dollar, dam by Newminster, and ch. f. Merry Thought by Warminster, dam Varina; M. H. SANFORD enters b. f. Notice, sister to Norfolk, Northumberland, &c., b. f. Stamps by Lexington, dam by Glencoe; J. DENISON and CRAFORD enter ch. f. by Censor, dam imp. D'Anglaise, and b. f. by Censor, dam Pasta; F. MORRIS enters b. f. Remorseless, sister to Ruthless; gr. f. by imp. Eclipse, dam Fidelity, and b. c. Invalid by Young Eclipse, dam out of Rosebud; R. W. CAMERON enters b. f. by imp. Leamington, dam Jerusalem; LITTLEFIELD enters b. f. by imp. Hartington, dam by Knight of St. George; C. LITTLEFIELD enters ch. c. Pollock, by Colossus, dam by Gray Eagle; THOS. DOSWELL enters b. f. Midday, by imp. Eclipse, dam Ninette; Jos. MCCONNELL enters br. c. Chillicothe, by Lexington, dam Lilla, (own brother to General Duke;) E. THOMPSON enters br. f. by Lexington out of Ansell's dam; W. COTTRILL'S b. f. Cricket, by Daniel Boone, dam by Lilla Ward; and J. W. PENNOCK'S b. c. by Norton, dam Rebecca Price. Here we have the flower of the American two-year olds, of the purest blood and most unimpeachable pedigrees, and the race is sure to produce a large field of starters and a most exciting contest.

The sweepstakes for fillies foaled in 1867, $200 each, half forfeit, over five furlongs, has eight entries, viz.: Mr. BELMONT'S ch. f. Lady Love, by Censor, dam Lizzie W., and his ch. f. Nellie James; Mr. MORRIS' b. f. Remorseless, and gr. f., sister to Raquette; Mr. LITTELL'S b. f. by Hartington, dam Optima; Jos. MCCONNELL'S b. f. Anna Mace, by Lexington, out of Luzerburgh's dam; J. J. O'FALLON'S ch. f. by Glendower, dam Punella; W. COTTRELL'S b. f. Cricket, by Daniel Boone, dam Lilla Ward. This race is to be run on the first day of the Spring meeting.

The sweepstakes for colts and fillies foaled in 1867, has seven subscribers, and is run on the same day as the preceding stake. The entrance fee is $200, half forfeit, over five furlongs, and the entries are: Mr. BELMONT'S Telegram and Lady Love, Mr. MORRIS' Remorseless and Invalid, Mr. J. J. O'FALLON'S Restless and ch. f. by Glendower, and Mr. LITTELL'S ch. c. by imp. Balrownie, dam by Union. All the above stakes closed on the 1st of March.

The entries for the Saratoga Cup, the sequel stakes, the flash stakes, and the sweepstakes for all ages, closed on the 1st of March, and showed a marked increase over those of preceding years. The Saratoga Cup has twenty-six subscribers, or six more than last year, and the horses entered are: De Courcy, Local, Pleasureville, Sleety, Red Dick, Julius, Lancaster, La Polka, Nemesis, Narragansett, Dickens, Inverness, General Duke, Ruthless, Monday, Australia, Sweet Home, Vauxhall, Biddy Malone, Sundown, Plantagenet, Bayonet, James A. Conolly, Nellie McDonald, Gilroy and Victory. This list comprises the very best horses on the turf, and the race for the Saratoga Cup will fully maintain if not increase its former prestige.

The Sequel Stakes for three year olds, $50 entrance, p. p, with $750 added, two miles, has eighteen entries, being one more than last year. They are The Nun, Niagara, Cannie Bairn, Narragansett, Fenian, Inverness, Invercauld, Thunderbolt, Legatee; ch. c. by Doneraile, out of Undine's dam; by WIGHTMAN'S Lexington dam by Churchill; Blarney Stone, Duffy, Athlone, Alla Vela, Cottrill, Carrie P., and b. c. by Colton, dam by The Colonel. Here we have the fastest horses on the turf entered, and the race is certain to be a good one. The Saratoga stakes for two-year olds has forty-three subscribers. The Saratoga meeting of 1869 promises to eclipse in splendor any of its predecessors, judging from the number and high quality of the thoroughbreds entered for the various races.

The Cuban Insurrection—Meeting of the Cuban Ladies Junta.

The news received from Cuba within the past day or two, has caused unwonted excitement in the few patriotic Juntas or societies of Cubans established in the City of New-York, and among liberal Cubans throughout the country. From several quarters we hear of contributions of men and arms and money, all of which will shortly find their way to the island.

A firm on Broadway has an order for one thousand rifles, which will be filled in a day or two. The Juntas wished to procure breech-loaders, but it appears there is not a sufficient quantity in the market. Another firm on Broadway has an order for eighty navy revolvers, which will be filled within the week. A number of barrels of powder came on from Philadelphia a few weeks ago, and the Central Committee will purchase more in the City early in the ensuing week. It is said that the Fenian authorities have offered cases containing about three hundred rifles to the Juntas, at a very low price.

In the meantime the Spanish Government of Cuba is in the market in this city, and is purchasing large quantities of arms and powder. The cases containing these articles are sent by the regular packets.

The Junta Patriotica de Cubanas held a regular meeting at No. 139 West Twenteth-street, yesterday afternoon, Señora CASTELLANOS, President of the Society, in the chair, and about twenty ladies present. Señora MERCEDES SHERMAN, the Secretary, detailed some of the operations by the Junta during the past month. The entertainments it is proposed to give for the purpose of raising funds for these objects are, first, a concert with lecture by MR. DE CORDOVA, at Irving Hall, on the 20th of March; second, private theatricals, at the Jerome Theatre, on the 15th of April; third, at the end of Lent, there will be a grand Cuban Fair at the Maison Dorée, and an appeal is made to American ladies to come forward and give aid to this undertaking. The Secretary announced that contributions for the fair could be left with Señora MATORGA, No. 169 Lexington-avenue. There being no other business of importance, the Junta adjourned.

Superintendent of Buildings.

The annual report for 1868 of the Superintendent of Buildings has just been issued. He calls attention to a legislative amendment during the year requiring that all persons building or repairing houses from the Battery to Eighty-sixth-street, inclusive, shall give him notice of the fact, and submit plans and specifications. Also, that any new dwelling-house, for more than one family, shall have a stairway to the roof, and rooms connecting by doors from front to rear, and, likewise, a fire-escape. Fire-escapes have been placed on many old tenement-houses, and probably all those existing in the City will soon possess them. Fire detectors are recommended to general use. They resemble a small steam gauge dial, and ring an alarm bell at a certain degree of temperature. There are yet twenty-nine unsafe buildings in the City, but they will soon be removed. The law requiring an inspection of heaters in all buildings has obviated many accidents. A means of speedy egress from all Theatres has been secured. The Superintendent urges further attention to ventilation in tenement-houses, which is, thus far, very defective. Plans for 2,012 new buildings were submitted during the year, the largest number, by far, being in the Nineteenth Ward, where 830 were contemplated; 324 were reported for the Twelfth Ward, 235 for the Twenty-second and 197 for the Twenty-first. The amounts in the other wards were insignificant. Of the above, 1,874 buildings were finished before the 31st of December. Numerous alterations in houses, raising and enlarging, &c., have also taken place.

New Steamers for China.

An addition will shortly be made to the fleet of American merchant steamers now running on the rivers of China—two steamers destined for inland navigation in that country having left this port yesterday morning for Shanghae, proceeding thither by way of the Cape de Verde Islands and the Cape of Good Hope. These vessels, named the Nautilus, Captain L. B. HODGES, and the Walrus, Captain J. S. WATSON, are comparatively new boats, and were built originally for the Philadelphia outside line; but they have undergone the alterations necessary to fit them for their foreign service, and are well appointed in every respect. They are the largest steamers that have yet been sent out to China from this country, being respectively 240 feet long, with 46 feet breadth of beam. Their owners are Messrs. RUSSELL & Co., American merchants at Shanghae. These fine boats are intended to run on the River Yangtse for a distance of 700 miles into the interior. The Captains have special orders to keep a sharp lookout, night and day, during the voyage for vessels in distress and wrecked mariners, and to render all the assistance in their power in any case requiring aid. No expense has been spared in fitting up these steamers, and they go out abundantly supplied with provisions of all kinds.

Bids for Brooklyn Water Pipes.

The Board of Ridgewood Water Commissioners intend to lay about twenty-five miles of water pipes to supply the wants of the Brooklyn people during the present year. The contracts for pipe sufficient to supply ten miles of the streets with water were awarded as follows:

475 tons to R. D. Wood & Co.	$34,829 75
525 tons to Warren Foundry	38,075 00
20 tons special castings to Warren Foundry	2,016 00
32 tons special castings to Mr. Short	2,529 00
Total	$77,140 75

The following are the prices per ton of 2,240 pounds, at which the various classes of pipe are to be delivered on the wharf in Brooklyn: 4-inch A, $73 24; 6-inch B, $72 29 and $73; 8-inch A, $72 50; 8-inch B, $72 50; 12-inch B, $72; 20-inch B, $71 50.

Arrest of a Burglar.

JOHN MURPHY was caught committing a burglary at No. 50 Exchange-place, at 1 A. M. yesterday. When arraigned before Sergeant CHERRY, at the New-street Station-house, he said: "This will be another Smedick case." He was understood to mean that he should take an early opportunity to shoot down the officers who had arrested him. MURPHY was locked up. Yesterday he was arraigned before Justice HOGAN, at the Tombs Police Court, and committed for trial. He is only 22 years old, but, it is stated, has frequently been guilty of acts of violence, and has "gone to the bad" generally, much to the sorrow of his aged parents, who are very respectable people.

The Vessel Owners and the Hell Gate Pilots.

A special meeting of the Board of Directors of the Vessel Owners' and Captains' Association, was held at the association rooms, No. 54 Pine-street, yesterday, at 3 o'clock P. M., at which Messrs. GEORGE M. SARGENT, WILLIAM W. BAKER and NELSON EDWARDS were appointed a committee to proceed to Albany and contest the passage of the proposed law. MR. WM. H. WATERBURY was subsequently added to the committee.

Superintendent of Buildings.

The annual report for 1868 of the Superintendent of Buildings has just been issued. He calls attention to a legislative amendment during the year requiring that all persons building or repairing houses from the Battery to Eighty-sixth-street, inclusive, shall give him notice of the fact, and submit plans and specifications. Also, that any new dwelling-house, for more than one family, shall have a stairway to the roof, and rooms connecting by doors from front to rear, and, likewise, a fire-escape. Fire-escapes have been placed on many old tenement-houses, and probably all those existing in the City will soon possess them. Fire detectors are recommended to general use. They resemble a small steam gauge dial, and ring an alarm bell at a certain degree of temperature. There are yet twenty-nine unsafe buildings in the City, but they will soon be removed. The law requiring an inspection of heaters in all buildings has obviated many accidents. A means of speedy egress from all Theatres has been secured. The Superintendent urges further attention to ventilation in tenement-houses, which is, thus far, very defective. Plans for 2,012 new buildings were submitted during the year, the largest number, by far, being in the Nineteenth Ward, where 830 were contemplated; 324 were reported for the Twelfth Ward, 235 for the Twenty-second and 197 for the Twenty-first. The amounts in the other wards were insignificant. Of the above, 1,874 buildings were finished before the 31st of December. Numerous alterations in houses, raising and enlarging, &c., have also taken place.

New Steamers for China.

An addition will shortly be made to the fleet of American merchant steamers now running on the rivers of China—two steamers destined for inland navigation in that country having left this port yesterday morning for Shanghae, proceeding thither by way of the Cape de Verde Islands and the Cape of Good Hope. These vessels, named the Nautilus, Captain L. B. HODGES, and the Walrus, Captain J. S. WATSON, are comparatively new boats, and were built originally for the Philadelphia outside line; but they have undergone the alterations necessary to fit them for their foreign service, and are well appointed in every respect. They are the largest steamers that have yet been sent out to China from this country, being respectively 240 feet long, with 46 feet breadth of beam. Their owners are Messrs. RUSSELL & Co., American merchants at Shanghae. These fine boats are intended to run on the River Yangtse for a distance of 700 miles into the interior. The Captains have special orders to keep a sharp lookout, night and day, during the voyage for vessels in distress and wrecked mariners, and to render all the assistance in their power in any case requiring aid. No expense has been spared in fitting up these steamers, and they go out abundantly supplied with provisions of all kinds.

Bids for Brooklyn Water Pipes.

The Board of Ridgewood Water Commissioners intend to lay about twenty-five miles of water pipes to supply the wants of the Brooklyn people during the present year. The contracts for pipe sufficient to supply ten miles of the streets with water were awarded as follows:

475 tons to R. D. Wood & Co.	$34,829 75
525 tons to Warren Foundry	38,075 00
20 tons special castings to Warren Foundry	2,016 00
32 tons special castings to Mr. Short	2,529 00
Total	$77,140 75

The following are the prices per ton of 2,240 pounds, at which the various classes of pipe are to be delivered on the wharf in Brooklyn: 4-inch A, $73 24; 6-inch B, $72 29 and $73; 8-inch A, $72 50; 8-inch B, $72 50; 12-inch B, $72; 20-inch B, $71 50.

Arrest of a Burglar.

JOHN MURPHY was caught committing a burglary at No. 50 Exchange-place, at 1 A. M. yesterday. When arraigned before Sergeant CHERRY, at the New-street Station-house, he said: "This will be another Smedick case." He was understood to mean that he should take an early opportunity to shoot down the officers who had arrested him. MURPHY was locked up. Yesterday he was arraigned before Justice HOGAN, at the Tombs Police Court, and committed for trial. He is only 22 years old, but, it is stated, has frequently been guilty of acts of violence, and has "gone to the bad" generally, much to the sorrow of his aged parents, who are very respectable people.

The Vessel Owners and the Hell Gate Pilots.

A special meeting of the Board of Directors of the Vessel Owners' and Captains' Association, was held at the association rooms, No. 54 Pine-street, yesterday, at 3 o'clock P. M., at which Messrs. GEORGE M. SARGENT, WILLIAM W. BAKER and NELSON EDWARDS were appointed a committee to proceed to Albany and contest the passage of the proposed law. MR. WM. H. WATERBURY was subsequently added to the committee.

CUBA.

The Diario praises the inaugural message of General GRANT. A general stagnation in trade is observable throughout the island, the failures of several firms being already reported. The insurgent General JUAN CAPOTE LOPEZ had been taken prisoner, and was shot on the 9th instant at Cienfuegos. A report had been circulated that rebels captured in recent engagements had been dispatched with knives by their captors.

Complaints are made by American residents relative to the insignificant numerical strength of the United States squadron on the West India station, as compared with the English and French fleets. The policy of the United States Government is condemned as short-sighted, in view of the present condition of affairs o nthe island.

The families of persons condemned to imprisonment at Fernando Po, for their revolutionary sympathies, are to be permitted to furnish the convicts with means for the supply of necessaries.

CONGRESS.

In the House yesterday, Mr. BUTLER'S proposition to appoint a joint committee of three Senators and six Representatives on Indian Affairs was discussed at length, and finally agreed to by a vote of 93 to 47. A concurrent resolution was introduced and adopted, fixing the adjournment of Congress for the last Friday in March. Mr. BANKS introduced a bill to authorize the President to recognize the independence of Cuba, and to enter into negotiations for the annexation of the Republic of San Domingo, both of which were referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs. Mr. SCHENCK introduced his old bill for strenghthening the public credit, when a debate ensued on a motion to strike out the second section, which was agreed to, and the bill passed in the amended form by a vote of 97 to 47. The House then adjourned until Monday.

GENERAL.

Mexican advices via San Francisco describe the situation of JUAREZ as critical, his available forces being limited and the treasury depleted. Outrages continue and the perpetrators escape punishment. ALVAREZ is quiet and evinces no inclination to visit the capital and answer for the large sums he has received for years from the Custom-house at Acapulco.

Mr. JAMES N. MARKS has just received his commission under the new Administration, as Collector of the Port of Philadelphia.

The Scandinavians of the Northwest held an Educational Convention in Madison, on the 4th, for the purpose of organizing a society for the more general diffusion of education among their countrymen. They agreed to raise a fund to endow Professorships in two Western colleges for teaching the Scandinavian language, and so raise the educational standard among their people, large numbers of whom are located in the Northwest.

Mrs. CLEM was recently convicted of murder at Indianapolis, Ind., and sentenced to State Prison for life. She was charged with having killed JACOB YOUNG and his wife, and robbed her victims of a large amount of money. SILAS HARTMAN, brother of Mrs. CLEM, who was under arrest as an accomplice, made a confession a day or two since, in which he states that YOUNG was killed by a man named FISCUS, and Mrs. YOUNG by a prostitute named FRANK CLARK. He also implicates a man named DORSEY, at whose instigation the murders were committed. HARTMAN and Mrs. CLEM, according to the confession, knew of the affair and received a part of the money. Immediately after making the confession HARTMAN committed suicide in his cell.

The negro HARRIS, who murdered two old ladies in 1867 at West Auburn, Me., was executed at Thomaston, Me., yesterday. The execution was witnessed by some twenty persons, and HARRIS confessed his guilt on the gallows, implicating his accomplice, LUTHER J. VERRILL. The latter was convicted upon the testimony of HARRIS, who turned State's evidence. Subsequently HARRIS made a sworn statement to the effect that his testimony was false, and that VERRILL was innocent. VERRILL was accordingly released from prison. HARRIS has now stated that his original statement given at the trial was true. There is a second indictment still pending against VERRILL, and it is said he will yet be brought to trial upon it.

President Grant and American Citizenship.

The few words uttered by General GRANT in response to Mr. BLODGETT'S delegation, Thursday afternoon, are full of significance. "He wanted to see one thing very much, and that was, all classes of the people protected in their opinions everywhere. He desired to see the speedy establishment of law and order in the South."

This is a repetition, obviously, of the formal and pregnant idea of the Inaugural Address: "Security of person and property, and security for religious and political opinion in every part of our common country, without regard to local prejudice." And both, let us add, are the paraphrase of the sentiment attributed to General GRANT in a letter said to be written by him last September or October: "CHARLIE, should the people make me President, you and the people may be assured that all men will be permitted to speak their honest convictions, wherever they may be, within the boundaries of the United States."

In truth, to secure protection of individual rights and freedom of expression for political opinion within the limits of order and law, are likely to be cardinal aims of General GRANT'S administration. WENDELL PHILLIPS need not be anxious about "Kuklux cut-throats;" the new Administration is more bent on putting down villainous combinations to substitute terrorism for tranquillity, than he can ever be, and by means more effective, if less noisy and bloodthirsty. It is not only in the instant promotion of SHERIDAN and the reinstatement of those army officers who were removed in disgrace by Mr. JOHNSON that we learn the new President's determination regarding "military reconstruction," and the protection of society at the South from the reckless and lawless—we can prefigure it as clearly from his personal character. For, it is a familiar truth in human nature that men of General GRANT'S slow-stirring and equable temperament are as little liable to swerve and swing away from a deliberate opinion or policy, when once reached, as they are tardy to attain it. General GRANT'S realization of the importance, as well as the grandeur, of securing individual rights—as, for example, freedom of opinion and an untrameled career—to every human being on whom American citizenship has been lawfully conferred, was, possibly, like his faith in the policy known as "military reconstruction," of somewhat slower growth than that of more restless thinkers, who, in turn, have their roving fancies now fixed on other ideals; but he is probably more determined than any man in America, at this moment, to establish order, provide security for person and property, enforce the laws and punish armed and banded law-breakers by military force where the civil arm is still paralyzed.

If General GRANT arrived later, we repeat, at some conclusions, it was because he did not jump at them, and arrived to stay. He abides by the views he put forth in his famous dispute with Mr. JOHNSON at the time of SHERIDAN'S removal, and has gone forward on the same line. He seems to know little and care little for wrangling parties at the South, one saying to the other "I am more loyal than thou;" he has little to say of "political disabilities," and that little not in favor of them; his words regarding LEE, and his act regarding LONGSTREET, show that vindictiveness toward former enemies is as foreign as ever to his nature; but when it comes to any matter of national legislation aiming to give full rights and privileges of citizenship to every citizen—whether by Civil Rights bill, Fourteenth Amendment, Fifteenth Amendment, or what not—his approbation and indorsement are very prompt and hearty.

In the history of the Republic for nearly eighty years, everything was done for State rights and national rights, nothing of consequence for domestic rights of citizenship. But the rebellion, which revolutionized American destiny in so many respects, did so in none more notably than this. The rights of American citizenship now take the precedence of all others, as they always should have done in a Republic where the electoral people are sovereign. We have lately undertaken to protect those rights even against States—that is to say, against that odious local legislation which once imperiled within the Republic freedom of travel, of opinion, and of speech. How vast a political and national tendency this is, our nearness to it may prevent us from realizing; but the historian of the future, who will view it in its just perspective, will comment upon it as not less momentous than the war itself.

Our generation, also, may not fully appreciate what lustre and historic grandeur will gather about that Administration which shall first establish as one of its main aims the protection of American citizenship, making that citizenship the badge of security for equal rights to all, throwing about the citizen as a citizen—not only in foreign countries, where his rights are now at length acknowledged, but here, especially, in every part of his own country— the ægis of his nationality, and putting into each citizen's hand, as it were, for his protection against all the world, the gathered thunderbolts of the nation. Under such an Administration, the "Civis Romanus sum" of antiquity will only stand side by side with the safeguard, "I am an American citizen."

That such is the lofty ambition of General GRANT we may gather from his various utterances, which become more and more distinct. Certainly we may take an augury from the presence as law-adviser in the Cabinet of the son of SAMUEL HOAR. What a change, not more from the South Carolina of 1844 to the South Carolina of 1869, than from the nation of five-and-twenty years ago to the nation of to-day; from American citizenship of the past to that of the present and that of the future.

Legislative Corruption.

The report of the State Senate Committee, on the railroad legislation of last year, which we published yesterday morning, is by no means what the public expected or what the case required. We do not concur with those who say that it is intended to whitewash that legislation, rather than expose its corruption; but it is very clear that the inquiry was of the shallowest kind, and either did not seek to probe the matter to the bottom or else was conducted with so little skill as to be worthless.

The Committee seems to have been clear and emphatic only on one point,—that of denouncing the newspapers for denouncing corruption in the Legislature, without being able or willing to give the Committee legal proof of specific cases of corruption, with names, dates and all other particulars. This shows that the Committee knows even less of the functions of the Press than of the duties and honor of legislators. The Press is in no sense responsible to committees of the Legislature, nor is it bound to prove, to their satisfaction, the truth of everything it may say. If it libels individuals, it is responsible to them in the Courts of law. If it deceives the public, it is responsible to public sentiment and its subscribers. But a Committee of the Legislature has no more right to sit in judgment upon it, or to rely upon it for evidence in cases under inquiry, than to delegate to it any of its other legislative functions.

It was proved very conclusively that the sum of $500,000 was drawn from the Treasury of the Erie Railroad, by one of its prominent officials, for use in procuring legislation at Albany; and though the Committee is satisfied that "large sums of money were expended for corrupt purposes by parties interested in legislation concerning railways during the session of 1868," it cannot find the slightest clue to what was done with it, but intimates very strongly that it was wasted in "enriching lobbyists," and that no "member" is proved to have received any of it. This is nonsense. Does the Committee suppose the managers of the Erie Railroad legislative business are such fools as this, to throw away half a million of dollars without accomplishing anything, and upon men who could not possibly do anything?

The Committee knows better. It knows that the "lobbyists" referred to are merely the brokers employed in the business,—that the money went from the Railroad men to the members, whose votes it bought and paid for, and that the lobbyists were simply the agents in the transaction. One-tenth part as much evidence of corruption in the election of English members of Parliament would unseat every member of the House of Commons against whom it could be brought to bear. But those cases are tried by English Courts of law;—these by a New-York Legislature. The guilty parties there are not their own judges and jury; here they are.

Besides, the guilty parties here maintain such laws in regard to evidence as renders discovery of the truth impossible. The Committee deserve credit for recommending an amendment of the law in this respect. But there is not the ghost of a chance of their getting it, and in this fact consists the perfect safety and impunity with which members will go on to sell their votes hereafter, as they have done heretofore.

The only consolation lies in the hope that the Press will not be terrified by hard words from denouncing it.

The Horrors of Emigrant Ships—The Case of the James Foster.

For a somewhat longer period than usual we have been spared any of those recitals of suffering, pestilence and death among emigrants at sea which were formerly so frequent, but which of late, we were beginning to hope, were becoming things of the past. A year ago, all our feelings of humanity were checked by the narrative of the fearful sufferings of the emigrant passengers on board the North German ships Lord Palmerston and Leibnitz, but owing to the prompt action of our Government, and the readiness of Count BISMARCK to fall in with any suggestions made with the view of enforcing upon the owners of emigrant vessels a decent regard for the lives of passengers, regulations have been adopted by the North German authorities which bid fair, as far as they go, to work satisfactorily. But now it is, we regret to say, an American ship that has been the scene of the fearful suffering from disease and privation, aggravated by gross ill-treatment, of a hundred and fifty emigrants. The James Foster, of this port, left Liverpool eleven weeks ago with one hundred and fifty steerage passengers, and arrived two or three days since with the loss of four passengers and twelve of her crew from ship fever, while nearly forty of the former are now suffering from ship fever or diarrhœa. No words of ours can serve to heighten the impression given by these simple figures of the sufferings, bodily and mental, of these poor emigants during their stormy voyage of seventy-six days, in the depth of Winter. And we refrain for the present from dwelling upon the horrible cruelties and atrocities said to have been practiced by the Captain and mates upon both passengers and crew, under the hope that they may prove to have been exaggerated. It is true that there is a certain class of natures upon which the sight of suffering, instead of exciting sympathy, serves only to brutalize, and deadens what remaining feelings of humanity they possess. Such, we fear, may turn out to have been the case with those in charge of the unfortunate passengers of the James Foster. We can only hope that on investigation they may be able to disprove or palliate the wanton cruelty with which they are now charged.

Our main object in referring to the case at the present time is to express our strong conviction that the day has come for the total stoppage of all conveyance of emigrant passengers in sailing vessels, and that an agreement to that effect ought to be entered upon and enforced by maritime nations. There are now numerous lines of steamers running from European ports to the United States and Canada by which emigrants can be conveyed at the lowest possible cost consistent with wholesome food, decent accommodation, and proper supervision, with the certainty of not being exposed to the discomforts of the passage for more than a fortnight, even in rough weather. On the other hand, the owners of sailing ships have been driven by steam competition to reduce their rates for emigrants to a figure which, while attracting a class of passengers to whom the smallest sum is of moment to risk the discomfort and loss of time, renders it impossible for them to make the undertaking remunerative, except by subjecting their passengers to treatment, in the way of accommodation and food, that can only prove dangerous to their health and lives. We earnestly hope that the case of the James Foster may at least have one good effect—that of diverting public attention to the whole subject of emigrant sailing ships, and may lead ultimately to their total disuse.

The Small Work of Congress.

How largely personal and trivial matters preponderate over matters that are general and important, in the thoughts and labors of Congress, the record of the work of the late session clearly shows. The public acts and joint resolutions number, all told, 149; the private acts and joint resolutions amounting to sixty-one. The total stands at 210. Of these sixty-six are acts granting pensions to as many individuals; thirty-nine are "for the relief" of individuals, whatever that may mean; four are for the removal of disabilities—three of them relating to only four persons. Here, then, at the start, are 109 measures—or more than half of the whole—exclusively personal in their character, every one of which must have occupied more or less time in some committee, and many of which were the occasion of explanation and discussion in one or both of the Chambers.

Of the other 101 measures a majority, though not strictly personal in their nature, are really of small importance. Thus, there are acts supplementary to acts amending titles—acts authorizing the sale of Federal property—and many others of the same sort. As a further result of analysis, we have five relating to the District of Columbia, six for the accommodation of railway companies, and as many more concerning private individuals or projects possessing but local interest. Eleven are appropriation acts. The acts which involve questions of principle and policy, and are national in their operation, do not exceed half a dozen, to which must be added the joint resolution proposing the Fifteenth Amendment. The remaining few are composed of amendments of existing laws, and provisions adapted to the needs of the Executive and Judiciary.

We shall not very grossly misrepresent the case if we say that of the 210 acts and joint resolutions which make up the record of the session's work, not more than one-fifth can be properly designated as fit work for a body having the responsibilities and powers of Congress, and involving the cost which attends its proceedings.

It is not simply that time is wasted upon a multitude of personal matters, and projects designed to promote corporate gain, all of which should be covered by general legislation. Were this the only objectionable aspect it would be bad enough, considering the corrupt agencies which special and private legislation call into operation, and the superior safety and equity of general enactments. But the evil has still more serious results. Assuming that 210 acts represent the working capacity of a short session, and that about only one-fifth of the number directly relate to topics of large public concern, it follows that four-fifths of the time of certain Committees, and four-fifths of the time of Congress, are misspent. The proportion may not be absolutely correct, since no allowance is made for the unfinished business, much of which was the subject both of investigation and debate. But the comparison is approximately accurate—sufficiently so to demonstrate that the petty work which so largely absorbs the energies of Congress is the main obstacle to the accomplishment of the really important work which is now neglected.

The difficulty is not confined to Congress. The State Legislatures exhibit the same tendencies. At Albany, as at Washington, special and private legislation is resorted to for purposes that should be adequately met by general enactments. In both places the time thus wasted would, if properly employed, admit of work at present untouched. From England the same complaint is heard. More and more the crowding of insignificant things interferes with things that are great; the local obstructs the national; personal measures delay measures of State. The trouble of Congress, however, ought not to be so formidable as that of the House of Commons. Our State Legislatures attend to affairs which English publicists propose to intrust to Commissions. But for the private and exceptional bills which are thrust upon Congress—for the pension acts and the railroad acts and the host of jobs which contribute so largely to the volume of sessional work—a remedy should be sought in general legislation. If this were done judiciously, and were firmly adhered to, the character of Congress would gain, and the requirements of the country would be more readily satisfied.

State and Local Aid to Railroads.

The inquiry into the corruption which is alleged to have occurred at Albany last Winter, in connection with railroad legislation, should not be allowed to divert attention from influences of another kind now at work within the precincts of the Capitol. The agencies employed in the Erie contest have given way to others not less unscrupulous. There is no huge stock swindle to legalize, and no half million to be squandered in the lobby after the manner of last year. But there are local "rings" in search of State aid—"rings" made powerful by combination, by the aggregate of plunder involved in their schemes, and by the support which adroit log-rolling commands, both in the Assembly and the Senate.

The prospect of ultimately controlling a total of nearly four millions of State money is quite sufficient to render Mr. CHASE'S bill formidable. The special schemes before the Legislature cover an amount of succor somewhat below two millions, but their success is hardly possible. The aversion to special legislation of any kind is assuming a form which even the lobby cannot disregard; and, besides, the crowd of intriguers who are interested in minor projects have probably strength enough to defeat what is to them of no value. The general bill meets both objections. It fulfills the requirement of the Governor for general as distinguished from exceptional enactments, and it lavishes public money upon all projects, to the extent of four thousand dollars per mile.

We presume that Governor HOFFMAN would not hesitate to veto the measure should it pass. The recklessness of the policy on which it rests, and the burdens it would entail upon the State, are considerations which he is not likely to underestimate. But the bill should not be allowed to go through the Legislature. The Treasury or credit of the State is not in a condition to carry an extra load of four millions for the benefit of railroad schemers and those whom they retain. The tax-payers are entitled to be thought of, and assuredly they are in no mood to be bled more freely than at present.

Fiscal and financial reasons should be enough to secure the defeat of the general and special subsidy bills now before the Legislature. But the whole system of State aid to enterprises of this nature is bad. Where railroads are really needed, there is no difficulty in raising capital for their construction. Enterprise and money are seldom wanting when profitable scope exists for either. The fact that State aid is sought, is prima facie proof that the roads which it is proposed to build are not wanted, or that their projectors desire to enrich themselves unfairly at the cost of the public.

Yet another precaution is necessary to mitigate the mischief, which the mania for projecting railroads may otherwise inflict upon portions of the State. The right of towns and counties to use their credit for the promotion of lines advantageous to themselves is, perhaps, unassailable. But only within certain limits. In the first place, since the ultimate liability for the redemption of bonds that may be issued rests upon the property of a town, something more than a municipal majority of tax-payers should be required to legalize their issue. That might usefully be contingent upon the approving vote of the major part of the taxable property of the town. In the next place, the issue of bonds in aid of railroads should be conditioned upon the making of adequate provision for their redemption. If a railroad is really wanted, and if the residents of a town are willing to aid it by a loan of their credit, they cannot complain if the law compels them to provide for the realization of their promises. Their help should take some other shape than that of promises to pay a debt which is cast upon the next generation; and the only available shape is that of a sinking-fund and a corresponding special tax. We hope, therefore, that Judge CAMPBELL'S general bill for bonding loans will not go through the Legislature without the addition of Mr. SELKREG'S amendment.

MINOR TOPICS.

The House has wisely resolved to adjourn in a fortnight, and little business will be transacted in that time. President GRANT does not need watching, and the country can stand alone, and safely, till December.

Of course those who attend the daily sales of property at the Real Estate Exchange are aware that a considerable proportion of the property which appears to be transferred does not really change hands. When the prices offered at the auction are unsatisfactory, or when bidders are not forthcoming, the prices of property are bid off or withdrawn at the instance of the owner or holder. The offers of sale are alway bona fide, but the prices bid are not always such as to be desirable, and hence the day's transfers frequently appear to be much larger than they actually are.

Mr. BANKS is out again in favor of annexing Hayti, and recognizing the independence of Cuba. There is no danger of Congress backing him up.

Of the large number of Republican papers that came to our office last night from the country roundabout, the whole approved very heartily of President GRANT'S nomination of General LONGSTREET as Surveyor of the Port of New-Orleans. The Washington inquirers, who have been anxious to learn the popular sentiment on the nomination, will see an unmistakable expression in favor of the restoration of political privileges to even prominent rebels, when they have shown a renewal of their loyalty.

The snow-block on the Pacific Railroad, which has interrupted passage for a month, has been cleared away, and the trains now pass through the Rocky Mountains in order. It is a good sign for the great railroad that, in the first Winter of its advance among the mountains, there has been so little interruption and delay on account of the snow. It gives hope of far less trouble on this point than some people had anticipated. In Winters to come the Company will learn how to avoid all interruption by reason of the tremendous snow-falls and snow-piles of the Rocky Mountains; and either covered ways or some other agency of protection will doubtless be adopted.

The Public Credit bill (Mr. SCHENCK'S,) has passed both Houses again. This time, the second section, providing for the legalization of gold contracts, has been struck out, as now unnecessary. The new President will have the honor, which the last President refused, of putting to the bill the signature which gives it the authority of law.

For some days past we have been reporting the evidence touching the brutal treatment at sea of the passengers of the ship James Foster. The statements of the victims would be utterly incredible were not the proofs visible in their own persons, and in the condition of the whole mass of passengers. Several of the officers are already under arrest, but why are not the Captain and his two mates seized preparatory to the administration of justice? Such frightful cruelty toward the poor emigrants who are seeking the shores of this free and happy land, ought to be punished in such a way as will give warning to the officers of other ships whose inhumanity is from time to time reported.

The new English Government have already reported to Parliament large reductions in the estimates for the army and navy for the coming year. The army estimates have been cut down $5,000,000, and the navy estimates an equal amount. A few weeks ago, there was great opposition to the proposed retrenchment in these quarters, but Mr. GLADSTONE'S Government is determined to attempt the practice of the economy which was promised.

In President GRANT'S brief address to a Virginia delegation yesterday, he said he hoped and believed that before the end of the year Virginia would be restored to self-government and represented in both Houses of Congress. He hoped to see this accomplished before New-Years' day.

Those who were afraid that Mr. WASHBURNE'S administration of our foreign affairs would imperil our pacific relations with European Powers, are perfectly well satisfied with the appointment of Mr. FISH in his place.

The Charleston News has a rumor, (it does not pretend that it is anything more,) that General JORDAN, Chief of Staff of General BEAUREGARD during the rebellion, has gone to Cuba, as have other Americans, to aid the rebellion, and that he "is in full accord with and is acting with the full knowledge and consent of President GRANT," who adds the News, "has already said that Spain is entitled to no consideration at the hands of the United States, and who is known to be strongly in favor of the acquisition of more territory." We do not believe any part of this story. General GRANT may be in favor of the acquisition of Cuba, and of the success of the war for the independence of the island; but he is not in the least likely to take so much pains to put this country in the wrong about it as this report implies. The same authority adds, on the same basis, that General JORDAN, on going to Cuba, was assured by President GRANT that if he falls into the hands of the Spaniards no hair of his head shall be injured, and that no Americans who takes part in the insurrection shall be improperly treated by the loyalists. This is another part of the "report" to which we give no credit.

There was a curious incident at the Baltimore banquet. Immediately after Mr. JOHNSON, with a sharp hit at his successor, had said, "I would rather be a free man than a President and slave," the second toast, "To the President of the United States," was given, and "warmly applauded and drank standing." This demonstration was what a lawyer would call a non sequitur.

The strike of the book printers seems to have fizzled out of sight. The strikers say they have nearly all got employment at advanced prices; and the employers say they have nearly all the hands they need at the old prices. It is a pity that the compositors did not push the plan of another coöperative printing-office with such vigor as to promise success. We believe it needs but little capital to make coöperation succeed, if there be intelligence and honesty as its basis.

Yesterday, in this market, our Five-Twenties (of 1862) were quoted at 120@120½—or equal to about 91½ in gold—showing steady progress toward par in coin. This indicates a substantial gain in the direction of the equalization of our bonds and coin in currency value, and of the resumption of specie payments. Further advances, on the same line, may be looked for.

Now that all the political and civil rights of our American negroes are established by law, they are beginning to push in all quarters for what they consider their "social rights." A colored woman who was refused a first-cabin passage in a steamship between here and Savannah, sued the steamship company, in the Court of Common Pleas of this City, for $5,000 damages. Judge DALY charged the jury at great length on the points of law involved, and, after a trial lasting through three or four days, the case has now come to a close by the disagreement of the jury. There is another case just reported. It appeared by our Virginia dispatches the other day that a colored man attempted to get quarters at a Petersburg hotel, but, on being ordered out and refusing to leave, was arrested and brought before the Mayor, who decided that the hotels understood to be kept for whites should not be intruded on by negroes who were not registered guests and had no right therein. In Louisiana, we believe, by enactment of the Legislature, people of both colors have equal privileges in public conveyances and public places; but we believe that nowhere else is there special law on the subject.

It was telegraphed from London some days ago that Rev. Dr. LEAVITT, of this City, had been awarded the gold medal of the Cobden Club, in the annual essay competition. The subject given to the writers was:

"What is the best way of devoloping improved political and commercial relations between Great Britain and the United States?"

We have no doubt that Dr. LEAVITT'S essay was able and valuable, and we trust that after its appearance in England it will be published in this country.

The argument of the Prospect Park Committee on Resolutions is a very fair one—that the ground which gives a view of Staten Island and Jersey, across the bay, and furnishes the name of the Park, shall belong to it. That pleasure-ground doubles the value of all the land about it, and really gives as much as it gets; so that there need be no very severe qualms of economy on the subject. The Park is a thing of beauty, and will be a joy forever, amply worth the largest sums of money expended and to be expended on it—which is more than can be said of a great many other matters of civic outlay. All open spaces now rescued from the streets will be especial blessings for the coming generations.

Any plan to improve the sewerage of the City and preserve the wharves from the pollution which is the result of the present way of getting rid of it, is worthy of earnest consideration. Mr JEROME COLLINS, being examined on the subject by the Legislative Committee sitting in New-York, thinks the sewers should be flushed with water drawn from the rivers in pipes, and the refuse received in tanks, to be used for agricultural purposes or sunk outside the Narrows. The present mode of disposing of our ezuvia is that of all old barbarisms. The time will come when the refuse of our cities will be removed by an easy and regular system to enrich the farms in their vicinities. This plan works admirably in Paris, and the unhappy Londoners see they must adopt it, or die of miasma.

AMUSEMENTS.

Theatrical.

MATINEES TO-DAY.

The last matinée of the "Ticket-of-Leave Man" will be given at Wood's Museum to-day. Mr. and Mrs. FLORENCE will sustain their original parts, as in the evening performance. This drama will be given on four evenings next week, and will then be withdrawn. There is no entertainment more truly interesting than this within the reach of our up-town residents.

Matinées will also be given to-day at Niblo's Garden of "The Forty Thieves;" at the Olympic of "Humpty Dumpty;" at the Waverley Theatre, the New-York Theatre, the New-York Circus and Tammany.

The first matinée of the new pantomime will be offered at the Bowery Theatre. Since Monday last the house has been crammed every night, from the floor to the ceiling, with eager audiences.

Miss KATE REIGNOLDS is to present her new drama, "The Shadow of a Crime," at the Broadway Theatre to-day. Every evening, in addition to her character in this piece, Miss REIGNOLDS has appeared as Richelieu in the sprightly comedy of "Richelieu at Sixteen," a part that admits her display of that graceful vivacity which is one of her most attractive qualities as an actress. Miss REIGNOLDS' engagement is to continue next week.

PLYMOUTH CHURCH CONCERT.

Mrs. MARION CHRISTOPHER, organist of the Broadway Tabernacle, and Mr. GEORGE W. MORGAN, will play at the seventh Brooklyn Plymouth Church Organ Concert to-day.

The Steamship Pereire.

The steamship Pereire, Captain DUCHESNE, arrived at this port on Thursday morning from Havre. It may be recollected that in the early part of February the TIMES stated that this vessel, which had left Havre on the 15th of January, experienced a most furious gale when six days out, and was struck over the larboard bow by a sea which carried away the side of her forward deck cabin and deluged the engine-room. Three of the crew and three second-class passengers, the latter consisting of Rev. Mr. CALLAGHAN, a Catholic priest, Mr. FOULQUIER, and Miss FUNKELBERG, were killed by blows from crashing timbers, which had been stoven in. Other passengers were slightly injured. Finding that the vessel could no longer breast head-seas with her cabin and lower decks exposed to constant flooding, the Captain put back to Havre, and arrived there on the 26th of January. The passengers were transferred to the St. Laurent, and the Pereire, after a repair of the cabin, awaited her turn to sail again. No injury whatever was sustained by the vessel beyond that to the cabin. The second and third officers have been changed since the accident.

It is worthy of remark that the sea which did the damage was shipped after the wind had lulled. Fully 800 tons of water were thrown on deck and below, and the Captain's cabin was also demolished. In consideration of the high compliments paid to Capt. DUCHESNE'S seamanship by those on board, the French Government awarded him a medal of the Legion of Honor.

WASHINGTON.

Tremendous Pressure of the Hordes of Office-Seekers—The President and His Cabinet Besieged—Generals Sickles, Butterfield and Palmer to be Appointed Foreign Ministers—Meeting of the Cabinet—Miscellaneous News and Gossip.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Friday, March 12.

The pressure for office is beyond conception. It is far beyond that of 1865, and fully equal to the pressure of 1861, when there was a radical change in the Administration from Democratic to Republican. Members of Congress are besieged in the most unmerciful manner. They bar their doors against the army of comers, they approach their lodgings through alley-ways and by back-stairsases, to avoid the applicants. They seek refuge in out-of-the-way places, and pass sleepless nights because of the anxious throng who besiege them at all hours and upon all occasions.

What is worse about it is that in the chaotic upheaval of things political here, it is impossible, even for members of Congress, to tell, with anything like certainty, what they may expect. Never was there a worse time for calculations for patronage based solely on political service. States are at a discount—they are made and unmade daily. Recommendations for office are little better. Nothing is efficacious except strong personal influence, which carries with it a solid conviction of worth and merit. Impecunious office-seekers are rapidly losing their patience. Their resources are rapidly becoming exhausted, and in a few days hundreds of them will depart, sadder if not wiser men. Very little progress can be made on any subject until this office pressure abates it; occupies three-fourths of the President's time and the time of his Secretary.

President GRANT is growing weary and exhausted under it, and he is daily drawing the lines closer as to the number and character of visitors. This he must do, or cease to be anything more than a mere listener to the wants, claims and desires of thousands of people, without power to act.

It will take about thirty days for this state of things to abate. An early adjournment of Congress will greatly facilitate it.

As indicative of the desire of the members of the House to be relieved of the pressure now upon them, the passage of Judge BINGHAM'S resolution to adjourn on the 30th inst. will be adopted. This more likely means April 30. The amount of business laid out in the Senate certainly indicates a session of six weeks.

Information has been received to the effect that Hon. HAMILTON FISH accepts the office of Secretary of State, though he may not be here for some days yet.

Governor BOUTWELL and General RAWLINGS were both sworn into office to-day at the Executive Mansion by Chief Justice CARTTER, of the District Supreme Court.

Among the nominations for prominent foreign missions that have been virtually decided upon are the following: Major-General DANIEL E. SICKLES, Minister to Mexico; HORACE RUBLEE, of Wisconsin, Minister to Switzerland; General PALMER, of New-York, Minister to Sweden and Norway. General BUTTERFIELD will also receive a foreign appointment.

The report that WM. B. TAYLOR will be appointed Postmaster at New-York has no foundation at this time. It was set afloat by interested parties to prevent the consideration of the claims of others. Neither will GEORGE V. LAWRENCE be appointed First Assistant Postmaster-General, but General G. A. SMITH, of Illinois, goes in as Second Assistant.

INDIANA OFFICE-SEEKERS.

The applicants for office from Indiana are here in force, and are quite vigorous in pressing their claims on the President. O. M. WILSON, the Secretary of the State Senate, wants to be Consul at Frankfort-on-the-Main; Colonel HALLOWAY is struggling for the Post Office at Indianapolis, and there are no less than four candidates in the field for the position of Pension Agent. They are Captain C. W. BROUSE, Geo. H. ZEIGLER, Captain ANDREW GRAYDON and E. P. HOWE. Colonel W. M. WILDS and FREDERICK BOGGS are running for the Assessorship at Indianapolis. There are a dozen other men who are anxious to help the President, in his economical policy, as collectors. Captain JOHN A. FINCH, of Indianapolis, is a candidate for the position of District-Attorney of the new Territory of Wyoming.

VISITORS TO THE WHITE HOUSE.

The rush of visitors to the White House was as great this morning as heretofore, but the crowd thinned out sooner than usual, the doors of the Executive Office having been opened, and general admission of visitors to the President permitted. Among those who had private interviews were Senator SHERMAN, Governor REED, of Florida, Ex-Senator CARLISLE, and several Representatives.

A delegation of the Loyal League of Alexandria, Va., comprising twenty-one members, and including several colored men, called on President GRANT this afternoon, when the Chairman read a short address expressive of their confidence in the President, and regretting that Virginia was not permitted to assist in his election, &c. After hearing the address, the President responded that he was glad to meet them, and he hoped and believed that before the end of the year Virginia would be restored to self-government and represented in both Houses of Congress. He hoped to see this accomplished before next New-Year's day.

A delegation of about twenty members of the Irish Republican Association of the United States, headed by Major HAGGERTY, of New-York, called on the President this afternoon, to tender their congratulations and pledge to the President of the United States the support of the Irish Republicans of America of his Administration. No speech making was indulged in.

The President has directed that hereafter members of Congress alone will be received between the hours of 9 and 11 o'clock in the forenoon. Between 11 and 12 o'clock the doors will be open to the public. In the afternoon none will be admitted, except members of the Cabinet and such as have appointments to meet the President.

THE ARMY AND NAVY AND THE PRESIDENT.

At 11 o'clock this morning the officers of the navy stationed in and around Washington assembled at the Navy Department to the number of about sixty. They were all attired in full uniform, and proceeded in a body to the office of Secretary BORIE, where they were presented to him by Rear-Admiral DAHLGREN, Chief of the Bureau of Ordnance. The Secretary received them in a most cordial manner, and impressed all very favorably by his affable demeanor. These presentation ceremonies lasted but a few moments, and when Secretary BORIE had shaken hands and exchanged a few general remarks with most of them, the entire party, headed by the Secretary, went in a body to the Executive Mansion, where they entered the East Room and waited a few moments to be presented to the President. After a short interval, President GRANT, accompanied by General DENT, entered the East Room, and was introduced to the officers by Vice-Admiral PORTER, when they all shook him by the hand. Prominent among those present were Vice-Admiral Porter, Rear-Admirals Shubrick, Smith, Goldsborough, Dahlgren, Poor, Howard, and Powell; Commodores Glissen, Smith, Boggs, Jenkins, and Sands; Captains Reynolds, Patterson, Davenport, Nicholson, Jeffers, Davis, Morris, Weaver, Gillis, Johnson, and Shirk. Of the Marine Corps there were present, Brig.-General Zirlin, and Majors Slack, Cash, Nicholson, and Graham, Lieutenant-Colonel Heywood, and other marine officers.

While the naval officers were exchanging salutations in the East Room, the officers of the army, headed by Ex-Secretary SCHOFIELD and General SHERMAN, entered the White House and were shown into the East Room. General SHERMAN approached the President, and they shook hands warmly and vigorously. He then introduced the officers in turn, all of whom were profuse in their congratulations. Among the distinguished officers present were Generals HARNEY and EMORY, who, since the present Administration, has been assigned to the command of the Military Department at Washington; Meigs, Terry, Barnes, Thomas, Hardie, Heintzelman, Miller, Bell, Brooks, McFerran, Williams, Vincent, Pelouse and Adjutant-General Townsend, Colonels Murray, Campbell, Wallace, Stacey, and a host of others. During the interview the new Secretary of War, General RAWLINS, entered the East Room and was instantly surrounded by an eager crowd of officers, both of the army and navy, who earnestly congratulated him upon his appointment to the War Office.

A large number of officers, personally unknown to the new Secretary of War, were introduced. After a stay of probably an hour, during which hand-shaking became general among all present, the interview terminated.

CABINET MEETING.

There was a Cabinet meeting to-day, which was fully attended, and lasted until nearly 3 o'clock. Among other matters considered was the recent law abolishing the use of fac simile franking stamps, a moderation in favor of heads of Departments will be recommended. It now occupies one-fourth of the time of some of these officers to frank the official mail.

THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY.

Secretary BOUTWELL went to the Treasury Department this morning, and visited the room of Assistant Secretary HARTLEY, where he was waited upon by the heads of the different bureaus. No official business was transacted by him during his stay, which lasted over an hour. During that time he was visited by Vice-President COLFAX, Senator WILSON and a large number of Representatives. At 12 o'clock he attended the meeting of the Cabinet and received his commission as Secretary. A large number of office-seekers were at the Departmnet this morning before the arrival of Mr. BOUTWELL, but many were unable to get in their applications, as he was occupied during his stay. Several, however, managed to present their claims for office, and the new Secretary listened to them very patiently and good-naturedly, but made no promises as to what he would do. It is rumored in the Department that a number of changes will be made, and many of the clerks are on the anxious bench.

THE VICE-PRESIDENT.

Vice-President COLFAX and Mrs. COLFAX have planned a visit to Ashtabula, Ohio, the late home of Mrs. COLFAX, and will leave here next week for that place. The Vice-President will be absent only a few days, during which time Senator ANTHONY, President pro tem. of the Senate, will preside. Mrs. COLFAX, who has been in New-York for several days past, returned to this city this evening.

THE TENURE-OF-OFFICE BILL.

The Senate Judiciary Committee met to-day, and considered the Tenure-of-Office act, though no formal vote was taken. The consideration of the bill progressed so far as to render it certain that it will be reported back early next week. It will be the modified bill of last session, modified in a still greater degree, the principal change being that the President is given the power of suspension, to be exercised in his discretion, instead of when the good of the public service might require it, as in the previous bill. Other matters of detail were arranged but nothing involving any change of principle.

THE HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

The House Committees, save that of Elections, were not announced to-day. It seems some gentlemen became aware of the positions to which they were assigned, and as nobody is ever satisfied, they made a raid on Speaker BLAINE and insisted on a change. So great was the pressure that after the House adjourned to-day the Speaker was unable to leave his chair for at least half an hour, so closely was he besieged by the members. The chief trouble is with, or rather about, BUTLER. He was second on Appropriations, and was, therefore, made second on Ways and Means, Mr. HOOPER going to the Banking and Currency as Chairman. It is understood that Mr. HOOPER and General SCHENCK both object to this, and that this is what deferred the announcement of committees until Monday. In the meantime the comments on the subject are decidedly rich and rare. General PAINE, of Wisconsin, as the new Chairman of the Committee on Elections, is a worthy successor of Mr. DAWES. Judge CHURCHILL, of New-York, who is transferred from the Judiciary to this Committee, will be succeeded on the former by Judge NOAH DAVIS, of the Rochester District.

The only chairmanship beyond Mr. LAFLIN, of the Joint Committee of Printing, which New-York will receive will be Hon. WILLIAM A. WHEELER, of the St. Lawrence District, who goes to the head of the Pacific Railroad Committee, now the largest committee in the House, being composed of fourteen members. But for Mr. WHEELER'S previous experience in Congress, his practical business habits and his ability as a Parliamentary speaker, the State of New-York would not even have had this representation in the Committee. Massachusetts and New-England, as usual, will take nearly all the important places.

General SCHENCK'S bill to strengthen the public credit again passed the House to-day, the gold contract section being stricken out by nearly thirty majority. A motion to lay on the table failed by yeas 53, nays 86, and the bill then passed by a vote of nearly two to one. It will probably pass the Senate on Monday, and, very appropriately, will be the first measure to receive the signature of the President.

Governor BOUTWELL'S resignation as Representative was laid before the House to-day. His seat being a desirable one, there was a contest for it at once between Messrs. SCHENCK and BUTLER, both of whom have of late been exceedingly unfortunate. It will be settled by the House. General SCHENCK is fond of sarcastic jokes, and being seated on the extreme outer circle, near the main door, amid constant confusion, he has a very unpleasant location. Being asked to-day as to what was the result on a certain vote, he responded that he did not know, as mail communication had not yet been established between that point and the Speaker's table.

THE ALABAMA CLAIMS.

Among the important subjects on which action will be taken by the Senate, before its final adjournment, is the treaty in reference to the Alabama claims, which is now on the table of that body. President GRANT has already indicated his views on this question, and the treaty will, of course, be summarily rejected. Mr. REVERDY JOHNSON'S recall is but a mere question of time, and the new Minister to England will be authorized to present the views of the present Administration to the British Government, in reference to the basis on which the claims may be to the United States satisfactorily settled.

MR. WASHBURNE'S MOVEMENTS.

Hon. E. B. WASHBURNE will not leave for France until May 1. In the meantime he will return to Galena and remain there long enough to close up his affairs.

Dispatches to the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Friday, March 12.

DEDICATION OF THE GETTYSBURG MONUMENT.

Senator MORTON, of Indiana, has accepted the invitation of the Board of Commissioners of the Gettysburg National Cemetery to deliver an address on the 1st of July next, on the occasion of the dedication of the monument, which will be completed by that time. An original poem will be delivered by BAYARD TAYLOR, and Rev. HENRY WARD BEECHER will perform the duties of chaplain.

SALE OF LIQUOR STAMPS.

Commissioner DELANO has issued directions to the Supervisors that hereafter any Collector who shall sell liquor stamps, after having received notice not to do so, shall be considered to have given cause for his suspension. The law provides that the Collector shall issue the stamps in books to the gaugers, who shall put them on the casks and cancel them.

PERSONAL.

Supervisor CREECY, of the Louisiana Revenue District, has not resigned, as reported. He leaves Washington, in a few days, with instructions to vigorously prosecute the cases already commenced, and rigidly enforce the laws.

The Michigan friends of Hon. JOHN F. DRIGGS, ex-member of Congress from that State, complimented him last night with a supper. A large number of ladies were present. Speeches were made by Governor BLAIR, Hon. THOMAS W. FERRY, Mr. DRIGGS and others.

Lieutenant-General SHERIDAN arrived here this morning. He was accompanied by his Acting Assistant Adjutant-General and Aid-de-Camp Brevet Lieutenant J. SCHUYLER CROSBY, and by Brevet Major-General EMORY.

NAVAL INTELLIGENCE.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, March 11, 1869.

GENERAL ORDERS NO. 101.—The sentence of Captain NAPOLEON COLLINS, who was convicted by a Naval General Court-martial of negligence in the performance of his duty, whereby the United States steamer Sacramento, under his command, was lost, is revoked, in consequence of the good conduct of Captain COLLINS during the rebellion. The pay of Captain COLLINS, forfeited by the above-named sentence, will be restored to him.

A. E. BORIE,
Secretary of the Navy.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, March 11, 1869.

GENERAL ORDERS NO. 102.—The sentence of a Naval General Court-martial in the case of GEO. W. BACHE, of the United States Navy, who was sentenced to be suspended from duty on the retired pay of his grade for the term of one year, and to be publicly reprimanded by the Honorable Secretary of the Navy, is hereby revoked, on the ground that there is nothing in the record of the proceedings of the Court-martial to justify the sentence. So much of Lieutenant-Commander BACHE'S pay as was stopped by the sentence will be restored to him.

A. E. BORIE,
Secretary of the Navy.

THE SUPREME COURT.

In the United States Supreme Court to-day the following cases were considered:

No. 397.—Carpenter, plaintiff in error, vs. Williams et al., in error to the Supreme Court of Missouri. A motion to dismiss was argued.

No. 105.—Ridley vs. Sherbrooke, in error to the Supreme Court of the State of Tennessee; an application for a mandamus to compel the registration of the petitioner. Argument commenced.

General Grant's Relation to Political Parties.

From the Richmond Whig.

The New-York World has neither the expectation nor the wish that General GRANT will join the Democratic Party.

Our expectations and desires are not far variant from those of the World—but perhaps for different reasons. The World seeks party success by party means, and with little regard to the interests of the country. We anticipate but little public good—certainly none to our section—from mere party triumphs. We believe that General GRANT can maintain the independent and elevated position which he has assumed, without doing any violence to the relations he bears to the party which elected him. In that position he can effect more for the country and more for his own fame than by becoming the tool of a faction. Violent and malignant partisans may be displeased; but all the patriotic of his own and other parties will rally to his support.

He professed, in becoming a candidate, an earnest desire for peace. Like a man of sense, he knows this object is not to be attained by stirring up old quarrels and rubbing old sores. He turns his back upon the unpleasant past, and directs his face toward a cheering future. He does not lard his discourses with the uncouth epithets of rebel and traitor; but his words are mild, and his invocations are for moderation and mutual forbearance, and the restoration of kindly feeling. It is certain he means what he says. He is for peace—real peace, and by the gentle and conciliatory means most likely to produce it. If he thereby offends radical politicians, either Republican or Democratic, and they wage war upon him, on them be the consequences. For our part, we care not whether he is called Republican or Democrat, while he achieves the ends he aims at; but we think his success will be easier and more certain by preserving intact his relations with the party that elected him.

PERSONAL.

The poem entitled "The Ancient Clock," copied in last Sunday's TIMES from MAYNE REID'S Magazine, Onward, was written by Mr. EDGAR FAWCETT.

The Courrier says that PETIT (Narcisse) and CARRIERE (not Carrier, the tenor) left suddenly on Tuesday by the Holsatia, for France. The same paper says: "Bon voyage—these amiable artists will be regretted by the public, by the manager, and by their creditors."

Hon. MYRON CLARK, of Manchester, long a prominent citizen of Southwestern Vermont, died of apoplexy, at his residence, on Tuesday morning last, aged 79 years.

The steamship De Soto, Captain EATON, from Havana, which arrived at this port yesterday, brings His Excellency Señor Don M. LOPEZ ROBERTS, the Spanish Minister, en route to Washington.

Superintendent KENNEDY returned yesterday from his trip to Aiken, S. C., where he left Mr. ACTON, President of the Board of Police Commissioners, and who, he reports, is rapidly improving in health. Mr. KENNEDY also reports that Hon. THURLOW WEED, who is also sojourning at Aiken, is fast recuperating in that genial climate.

Mr. CLIFTON W. TAYLEURE, whilom of the Olympic Theatre, and henceforward manager of the Grand Opera House, returned to this City from Europe aboard the steamship Russia. The results of Mr. TAYLEURE'S two months' sojourn in England and on the Continent will soon be pleasantly apparent.

The Boston Advertiser, speaking of Mr. A. T. STEWART, says: "No high appointment was ever made for a better purpose, and no man ever consented to make so great a sacrifice to accomplish it."

At the Johnson dinner, Thursday evening in Baltimore, letters were received from a number of distinguished men, among them Mr. EVARTS, whose letter closes as follows:

"Certainly, I must ever regard the professional engagement by which I took part in the defence of the President of the United States, upon the first occasion in our history of a political conflict between the coördinate legislative and executive departments of the Government, as the most notable event in a life which has been wholly devoted to the duties of my profession, and has been governed, at least in purpose, by its obligations. And, if I should be permitted, I should be unwilling that the generous tolerance of political difference which has marked the relations of the President to me in the official position to which he did me the honor to call me, not at all times with pleasure acknowledge the weight of personal obligations under which so great kindness has placed me. I need not, therefore, say how acceptable to me this invitation, from so distinguished a source, has been, and what gratification it would give me to witness the festivities with with you propose to receive the President upon his retirement from office. But the course which I have marked out for myself in closing a brief connection with public affairs will preclude me from taking part in official and popular demonstrations such as you are proposing, and with my best wishes for the prosperity of the occasion, which I beg you to communicate to the authorities of the City of Baltimore, I am, &c."

General O. E. Roberts, of Washington; Hon. R. G. Davis, of Boston; Hon. S. G. Reed, of Oregon, and Hon. M. D. Roberts, of Washington, are at the Fifth-avenue Hotel. Hon. W. D. Colt, of Washington; Judge Schoonmaker, of Kingston, and Hon. H. K. Burnett, of Washington, are at the Metropolitan Hotel. Hon. W. C. Whitridge, of Massachusetts, and Hon. G. T. Evans, of Texas, are at the New-York Hotel. Hon. James E. Kelley, of Croton Falls, is at the St. James Hotel.

List of Americans registered at the Banking House of DREXEL, HARJES & Co., No. 3 Rue Scribe, Paris, for the week ending Feb. 25, 1869: New-York—Mr. H. M. Van Schaick, Mr. John J. Wysong, Mr. H. M. Gregory, Mr. Turnbull and family, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Wilson, Miss Eliza K. Wilson, Mr. William Kumbel Wilson, Miss Louise K. Kumbel, Mr. W. P. Fetridge, Mr. P. Coolidge, Mr. H. A. Delille. Union Republican General Committee.

A special meeting of the Union Republican General Committee was held at 7:30 o'clock last evening, corner Twenty-second-street and Broadway, Hon. JOHN V. GRIDLEY in the chair. After some discussion, the consideration of the matter of contested seats was postponed till the first Monday in April.

Mr. JAMES M. THOMPSON offered the following:

Resolved, That we heartily and cordially indorse and approve of the nomination and appointment of Hon. HAMILTON FISH, of this City, in the Cabinet of President GRANT, as Secretary of State; and from his long experience in State and national affairs, we feel assured that such appointment was eminently fit to be made.

The resolution was adopted. The following was also adopted:

The Republican General Committee of the City and County of New-York respectfully and earnestly recommend the immediate passage by the Legislature of the Fifteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution, recently adopted by Congress.

Resolved, That a copy of the foregoing resolution be properly attested and immediately forwarded to both branches of the Legislature.

After some discussion as to recommending that the City officers' election be held on the day of the general State election, the Committee adjourned.

Submarine Light.

On Thursday an apparatus intended to be used in the examination of ships' bottoms, and for other purposes of a similar nature, was exhibited at the residence of Professor DOREMUS, in Fourth-avenue. Among the gentlemen present on the occasion were Admiral FARRAGUT, Dr. GRISCOM, Professor HAMILTON and Mr. OLE BULL.

The apparatus is intended to be used in the following manner: If it is desired to examine the bottom of a ship, for instance, a boat is provided, into the sides and bottom of which are let panes of thick but clear glass. A powerful light (the magnesium) is the next requisite. By means of reflectors the rays from this light can, of course, be thrown through the water upon any part of the ship's side or bottom. With a tube of peculiar construction containing a mirror, a person can then examine any part of the ship under water, all that is requisite being to so adjust the light in the boat that the rays are thrown on the particular portion under observation. The apparatus is the invention of Mrs. DEVOE, and is certainly highly ingenious, but there appears to be some doubts as to its practical utility. Admiral FARRAGUT seemed to be of opinion that it might be used with advantage in still, clear water, but that under ordinary circumstances its practical use would be attended with considerable difficulty. He remarked that in the Pacific Ocean the water is so clear that rocks and seaweed can be seen distinctly many fathoms deep, while in other waters it would be a matter of difficulty to see anything a few inches deep even with the aid of the magnesium light.

Affray on Shipboard.

Thursday afternoon the Police boat Metropolitan, Captain HART, saw a vessel near Ellis Island, with her colors "Union down." It was found to be the brig Moses Day, Captain LOUD, bound to Cardenas, Cuba. On being boarded, JOHN WILLIAMS, the steward, was found to have been beaten horribly about the head. He pointed out QUINN, the second mate, and DESMOND and MCGRATH, two sailors, as the ones who had ill-treated him. All parties were under the influence of liquor, which appears to have been the cause of the trouble. The assailants used belaying-pins in beating the steward. The latter drew a loaded pistol on them, which aggravated their attack.

Meeting of Steam and Gas Fitters.

The members of this trade held a mass meeting yesterday evening at No. 229 Bowery, to consider the advisability of striking for an increase of 50 cents a day in wages, the present rate being $3 50 per day. JOHN HARLEN presided. Addresses were made, and there was a strong feeling in favor of the movement. The Gas and Steam Fitters' Union numbers 300 members, and though its funds are now reduced to about $800, it is confidently expected that they will soon be largely increased. The next meeting of the Society takes place on Friday evening, the 19th of this month.

Affray and Robbery.

The Fourteenth Precinct Police, last evening, reported to the Central Police Office that at 2:30 o'clock on the 10th inst. an affray occurred in a saloon, No. 112 Broadway, in which a man named PETER S. CONNOR was badly beaten, and in the melée was robbed of $1,100. He was subsequently conveyed to his residence, No. 91 Prince-street, and as the Police did not hear of the affair until late last night, no arrests have been made. The story is considered to be a very singular one at the best, but it seems to be credited by the Police. An investigation will be immediately instituted.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS.

Friday is never a very busy day at the Real Estate Exchange salesrooms. The choice pieces of property are generally offered earlier in the week, and Friday and Saturday are considered off days.

The attendance yesterday was fair and the bidding better than was expected. Mr. JOS. McGUIRE sold two lots on the north side of Forty-eighth-street, west of Tenth-avenue, each 25x98.9, for $3,900. He sold other pieces of property at very respectable prices. Messrs. BLEECKER & Co. sold nine lots on the south side of Sixty-eighth-street, commencing 200 feet west of Eleventh-avenue, each 25x100.5, for $1,250 each. The same lots were sold on the 24th of February last for $1,175 each, an advance of $75 per lot in eighteen days. Messrs. MULLER, WILKINS & Co. sold the four-story brown-stone house and lot on northeast corner of Forty-seventh-street and Sixth-avenue, lot 19.6x75.4, for $55,100. The bidding for this lot was quite spirited. It was started at $30,000 and ran up quite rapidly. One lot on Seventy-third-street, 150 feet west of Ninth-avenue, 25x102.2, brought $6,500; five lots on Seventy-third-street, adjoining above, sold for $30,000. Other sales were made, the particulars of which will be found below. All things considered, the market was quite favorable, and the purchasers seemed particularly well satisfied with their bargains.

To-day the salesrooms will be silent.

On Monday, Messrs. E. H. LUDLOW & Co. will sell three lots on the southwest corner of Second-avenue and Forty-fourth-street. This property is on high ground, and is in a central location.

Messrs. A. J. BLEECKER, SON & Co. will sell the house and lot No. 133 West Thirteenth-street, between Sixth and Seventh avenues. Also, property on Eighty-second, One Hundred Fourteenth streets and on Prince-street.

Messrs. JOHNSON & MILLER will sell the old Williamsburg Odeon, situate on Fifth-street, Brooklyn, E. D.; also, other improved and unimproved property in the same locality.

Mr. D. M. SEAMAN will offer several lots on Greene-street; also some tenement property in Eldridge and Henry streets.

Mr. JAMES M. MILLER will sell forty-eight parcels of land, comprising about one hundred and eighty-one lots, the estate of LEWIS G. MORRIS. The property is on the line of Central-avenue; has direct communication with the railroads; is clear from trees, rocks, &c., and is in good condition for building purposes. It will undoubtedly sell well.

The large number of sales and great assortment of City and country property offered will, undoubtedly, cause the room to be well filled and the hopes by many fondly cherished, that prices will advance, will very likely be realized.

SUFFERING AT SEA.

The Ship James Foster—Horrible Treatment of Her Passengers and Crew.

Messrs. O'GORMAN, McFAROY, BISSINGER, SMITH and KAPP, Commissioners of Emigration, held a session yesterday morning at Castle Garden, upon the question of brutal treatment received by sailors and passengers from the officers of the ship James Foster, which arrived last Sunday from Liverpool. Mr. CHARLES H. MARSHALL, of the firm of CHARLES H. MARSHALL & Co., owners or agents of the vessel, was in attendance, with his counsel, as also a Police officer of the Second Precinct, who had been detailed on board upon the ship's arrival. A most squalid and pitiable looking passenger crouched humbly upon a seat, waiting for examination. He appeared to be a respectable English mechanic. His black clothing, where not in rags, shone with the grease engendered by long use and filthy surroundings. Some two dozen of his companions, who equally desired to give testimony, were turned loose in one of the pens below. Their appearance, in great part, was equally wretched. They were entirely destitute of either money or luggage. Both had been parted with to procure an addition to the meagre food that had been doled out to them during their long and tedious transit of seventy-six days. They, with many other passengers, had been compelled to work as seamen, owing to the sickness of a majority of the crew, and wished to know if they could not obtain a consideration for their labor from the owners. They said they knew of no one to whom they could apply for redress. They had been struck and dragged from their beds each night at the regular watch hours by the carpenter, boatswain or mates, and compelled to do every description of ship's duty. Their food, they said, had been insufficient from the commencement of the voyage, and barely sufficed for two meagre meals a day. The carpenter had charge of serving it out, and often threw the tough salt meat upon the deck to them as if they had been dogs. If a remonstrance was offered against a ration which was almost entirely bone or gristle, the frequent reply was "G—d d—n you, eat it, or you shant have any." Cases occurred where the first mate stood by, and threw the meat overboard, telling them to go to h—ll, and feed where best they could. The steerage where they had been confined, one hundred and forty-six in number, was, they said, but fifty feet long by thirty-five wide, and imperfectly ventilated. When not forced to labor, they were much of the time compelled by bad weather to remain under hatches, hoping against hope, and finding each dreary day ushered in with the same head winds as its predecessor. Books, papers and tobacco were all exhausted. Filth and bad air greeted them below, and rain with chilling wind on deck. The cheering fire of the galley was denied them, except at cooking moments, and the carpenter, in freaks of ill-will, would often extinguish the coals in that part of the range devoted to their use by throwing a bucket of water on them. Every description of petty spite, malignity and wanton diabolism, they assert, was exercised by the officers with the approval of the Captain. He answered their appeals by silence, and was often a witness to their treatment and to the horrible brutality vented upon the diseased men of the crew, which has been already enlarged upon in the TIMES.

No examination took place yesterday, as the counsel for the owners desired time to produce witnesses. Twenty-four hours were granted him, and the case was adjourned until to-day at 11 o'clock. It was asserted by the Police officer that the Captain, whose name was ANDREW ARMSTRONG, was ill at his residence in Myrtle-avenue, Brooklyn, near the Car Stable, and that the first mate, JOSEPH E. ARMSTRONG, was also sick at No. 172 Bridge-street, Brooklyn. The second mate was likewise reported ill, and it was not expected that any of these officers would be well enough to attend to-day. Testimony of the passengers and crew can, however, be taken for future use. Mr. CASSERLY, Superintendent of Castle Garden, said that the boatswain and carpenter were under arrest in Richmond County, Staten Island. The witnessing passengers were, therefore, required to remain until to-day. They made the above private statements at noon, and were quite interested in the subject of food. They had received a cup of coffee in the morning, with a piece of bread of most unobtrusive extent, and had a lively curiosity to know when something more was coming.

At the close of the proceedings, the members of the Press present visited the ship at Pier No. 2 East River. They looked into the steerage. Steerages are all dog-holes, and this was no worse than others. It appeared quite as small as had been stated, and altogether too contracted for the number of passengers stowed in it. The steps to the deck were narrow, and almost perpendicular. The ascent in rough weather must have afforded healthy gymnastics, especially for the women.

It may be said that Messrs. CHARLES H. MARSHALL & Co. were not cognizant of the possibility of human beings undergoing the alleged treatment upon their vessel. Captain ARMSTRONG had been in their employ three years, and they had heard no previous charges of the kind against either him or his mates. They do not desire to retain any officers in their employ who ill treat either passengers or crew in their charge, and are ready to dismiss those at present accused upon proof of guilt.

The Queens County Christian Convention.

The Queens County Christian Convention, held at Flushing under the auspices of the American Christian Commission, closed a two days' session last evening.

There was a large attendance of ministers and laymen from the different towns. The morning, afternoon and evening sessions were devoted to prayers, addresses and discussion of the following practical questions:

First—The methods of organizing and developing Christian activity among all the laymen of the different churches.

Second—Reaching the entire population, including the poor and other non-attendants upon church.

Third—The best methods of increasing the interest in devotional meetings.

Fourth—The best method of increasing the personal and social study of God's word.

Fifth—Woman's work in the Church, &c.

In the evening brief addresses were delivered to crowded audiences by Rev. A. C. ROE, Secretary of the American Christian Commission, Rev. GEO. WASHBURN, of Constantinople, Rev. J. MINGINS and Rev. JOHN COTTON SMITH, D. D., of New-York, and Rev. GEO. R. CROOKS, D. D.

LAW REPORTS.

UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT.

CONTRACT OF SALE—AGREEMENT TO PAY PURCHASE-MONEY IN A PARTICULAR COMMODITY—CHANGE OF MARKET VALUE.

John R. Parsons vs. Chas. T. Harvey.—This was an action of assumpsit, brought by the plaintiff in error, in the Circuit Court for the Northern District of Illinois. The plaintiff claimed damages in the sum of $4,000, for the non-payment of $160, and for the value of a fraction more than thirty-two tons of Lake Superior pig iron, which the defendant failed to deliver as per contract. Upon a purchase made in July, 1861, of the plaintiff by the defendant, the amount of purchase money being $975, it was stipulated as follows: "Terms of payment—cash, $750; balance payable in Lake Superior pig iron, delivered in Chicago during the season, at $22 per ton, or if not paid in iron this season, at option of seller, the purchase money to be on interest from Dec. 1 until iron is delivered next Spring." The defendant failed to deliver the iron, and meanwhile it advanced in price to $29 per ton; consequently the demand in suit is for the number of tons which could be purchased for $25 per ton, or thirty-two tons, worth, at the commencement of suit, over $2,500; and the question is, did the stipulation in the contract bind the defendant in such a responsibility? The Court on the term charged the jury "that they had nothing to do with the question of quantity or value of iron; the written contract read in evidence by the plaintiff, being a contract to pay to the plaintiff, on or by the 31st day of May, 1862, the sum of $825, either in money or Lake Superior pig iron at $26 per ton, whenever the defendant might elect; and the plaintiff is therefore only entitled to recover that sum of money named and the interest thereon." The verdict was in accordance with this charge, and the plaintiff bringing the ruling here for review, contending that the Court erred in its construction of the contract, and that it is a mere bill of sale at the price of $995, containing the terms and conditions of sale—how, within what time, and in what commodities payment shall be made. There can be no well-grounded doubt that a contract to pay $825 in iron at $26 per ton, is, in legal effect, the same as a contract to pay thirty-two, or thereabout, tons of iron at $26 per ton. To hold that the former is like the latter, is to give effect to every word in the contract. The defendant in error relies on the correctness of the ruling below, and does not file a brief. Senator Carpenter for plaintiff in error.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—SOUTHERN DISTRICT.

Before Judge Blatchford.

INTERFERENCE OF PATENTS—DESULPHURIZING ORES.

The Gold and Silver Ore Separating Company vs. The United States Disintegrating Ore Company and Mel. Snr B. Mason.—The plaintiffs in this cause were the owners of a reissued patent, No. 1,988, reissued June 4, 1865, to the Hagan Manufacturing Company and WILLIAM F. HAGAN as assignees of WILLIAM HAGAN, for an improvement in furnaces for washing ores by superheated steam. The defendants were the owners of a patent issued Jan. 3, 1865, to C. V. De Forest, Amos Howes & Co. and Geo. E. Vanderburgh as assignees of Melchor B. Mason, for an improved method of desulphurizing and oxydizing metallic ores.

The plaintiffs alleged in the bill in this action that Hagan was the inventor of the improvements claimed in the reissue No. 1,988, and that that invention was identical with that covered by the defendants' patent, and they prayed that the defendants' patent should be adjudged void.

The defendants' answer set up that the original patent was not for the same invention as that covered by their patent, and that the reissue No. 1,988 was procured for the purpose of fraudulently covering the suppositious matter and claims of Hagan, and was fraudulent and void; that Hagan was not the first inventor, and that Mason was, and it prayed that the Court would decree that the plaintiffs' patent was void, and the defendants' patent valid.

On the argument it was claimed by the defendants that the reissue No. 1,988, and the defendants' patent did not claim the same thing, and were not, therefore, "interfering patents," in the sense of the thirty-sixth section of the act of July 4, 1836.

Held by the Court—That the answer does not set up that the two patents do not claim the same thing, but does allege the substance that they do cover the same thing. That independent of the admission in the answer, there can be no doubt that the two patents do cover the same invention. That the first claim of one patent is identical with the first claim of the other, and the first claim of the defendants' patent must be held to interfere with the first claim of the plaintiffs' patent. That the second claim of the defendants' patent does not interfere. That on the evidence there can be no doubt that Hagan was the first inventor of the invention claimed by him in this first claim, or that he intended to claim it in the original patent, or that the reissue No. 1,988 is for the same invention. That the weight of the evidence is very preponderating that Messrs. borrowed from Hagan all that is embodied in the first claim of the patent No. 45,503. Decree therefore for plaintiffs, adjudging the patent No. 45,503 to be void so far as the process therein described for removing sulphur, arsenic, phosphorus and antimony from auriferous argentiferous and other metallic ores, and for oxydizing the ores by treating them with hydrogen and carbonic acid gases, employs or applies superheated steam, substantially as described in the reissue No. 1,988, and that the defendants must pay the costs.

For plaintiffs, C. M. Keller; for defendants, G. Gifford.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—SOUTHERN DISTRICT.

Before Judge Blatchford.

COLLISION AT SEA—STEAMER AND SCHOONER—STRANDING OF INJURED VESSEL—DAMAGES.

Elrad Higgins et al. vs. The steamship Celia.—This was a libel by the owners of the schooner Nellie Brown to recover the damages occasioned to her and her cargo by a collision with the steamer, which occurred about midnight on Dec. 3, 1868, off Fire Island light. The schooner was bound from Boston to Richmond. The wind was south, and the schooner was on her starboard tack, heading about east southeast. She had her proper lights set and a proper lookout, and discovered the lights of the Celia about two points on her starboard bow, a long distance off. When the steamer was so close that a collision was inevitable the schooner's helm was put to port, but her sails did not shake at all.

The Celia was bound from London to New-York, heading west half north. She saw the lights of the schooner a mile and a half or two miles off on her starboard bow, and she ported her wheel. It was claimed on her behalf that the schooner changed her course. After the collision, which carried away the schooner's fore and main rigging on her port side, her masts being left unsupported, efforts were made to get up temporary rigging. To do this it was necessary to keep her before the wind, but as soon as the masts were steadied and sails got down, she was brought to anchor. The wind increased, and though a second anchor was let go, she dragged them and went on the beach.

Held by the Court—That there is no evidence to show that the schooner changed her course. The evidence on both sides shows that she kept it, as it was her duty to do till just at the moment of the collision. That the porting of the schooner's helm in the moment of danger is not imputable as a fault. That as the schooner was free from fault, it was the duty of the Celia to avoid her; and that as she was on the wind,
